Turk washery, employing 250 men, and also prevailed upon the fifty men working at Crawford & Dugan's strippings not to go to work. From that place they proceeded to Honey-brooke and persuaded the men working at Carson's washery not to begin work.

The other colliers working on the south side, besides the crippled Coleraine, are Cox's at Beaver Meadows, which is working full, and the Evans at Beaver Meadows, which is short-handed.

The Hazel mines at the Hazelton shaft of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, in this city, are practically dead, only a handful of men being at each place. No. 40 shaft of the same company is working very short-handed.

Operators in this district today complain that mine workers are being intimidated. They claim that many men are anxious to work, but they fear bodily harm and do not go to the mines for that reason.

The Van Winkle Coal company sent coal and iron police to the homes of miners on the south side this morning to ask them to return to work. They promised them protection while on their way to and from work and at the mines, but very few men, if any, went back.

This is "firemen's day" in Hazelton and a big street parade was held. There was a big crowd out, but no disorder was reported.

WILL NOT ARBITRATE.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 19.—The opening of the third day of the miners' strike finds no change in the Wyoming valley. All the collieries are idle, with the exception of the one at Moanqua, which is still holding out despite all efforts on the part of the strikers to induce the men to quit.

The big demonstration of miners in Pittston last night has strengthened the lines of the strikers in that town. Everything is closed down this morning. The operators state none of their collieries are in operation. The operators in this section do not take kindly to the arbitration idea. Superintendent Lathrop, of the Lehigh Valley company, says:

"It is impracticable and impossible. A great corporation having millions of dollars of property could not place its interests in the hands of outsiders who know nothing about the property and about the manner of conducting the business. They might arbitrate to the ruination of the company's interest. There is too much at stake, too many details of business which a board of arbitration would know nothing about to make arbitration possible."

Mr. Lathrop voices the sentiments of all the operators and this fact being known leads the business community to believe that the struggle between the opposing forces will be a long and bitter one.

Some miners seem to realize the situation, too, and rather than spend a long period in idleness they are going to other parts of the country for work. The agents of the western railroads in this city say the best miners are going to Illinois, New York, Arizona and Washington.

EASTERN BANK FAILS.

Washington, Sept. 19.—The comptroller of the currency this morning received a telegram stating that by order of its board of directors the South Danvers National bank of Peabody, Mass., had closed its doors. The capital of the bank is $150,000; surplus and undivided profits, $70,463; individual deposits, $233,529; due to other national banks, $15,449; borrowed money, $108,276. Bank Examiner Ervin B. Sayle has been appointed receiver of the bank.

TAILORS GET ADVANCE.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 19.—The Merchant Tailors' exchange of this city has granted the demands of the journeymen tailors for a 10 per cent. advance in wages on all kinds of work. The new scale takes effect immediately and benefits practically every journeyman tailor in Cleveland.

RESORT TOWN DESTROYED.

New York, Sept. 19.—Spring Lake, N. J., a summer resort near Sea Girt, was destroyed by fire early today. Among the buildings burned were three of the largest hotels in the place, eleven fine cottages and several stores. The total loss is estimated at $250,000. Most of the hotels and cottages had closed for the season.

DEATH'S RECORD OF THE DAY

MRS. MARY A. WILDER EXPIRES AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Bride of Three Months Dies From

Hemorrhage of the Lungs—
The Funerals.

After an illness extending over a period of nearly one year, Mrs. Mary Wilder died shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday evening at her home, 184 Calhoun street. She was the wife of William Wilder, a barber, and death was due to chronic nephritis.

Mrs. Wilder was a native of Logan county, Ohio, and had reached the age of forty-one years, eleven months and thirteen days. Surviving her are the husband two children—Minnie and Carl. Mrs. Wilder was a member of the West Jefferson street Church of Christ and of Degree of Honor No. 2.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 1 o'clock from the residence and at 1:30 from the West Jefferson street Church of Christ. Rev. E. W. Allen will officiate and the interment will be at Lindenwood.

KOENIG.

Eda Koenig, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Koenig, of Adams township, died Tuesday afternoon after a brief illness from inflammation of the bowels, at the age of fourteen months.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and at 2:30 from Stock's church. Interment at the Stock cemetery.

FLOCK.

Mrs. Ida Flock, wife of Edward Flock, died very suddenly Tuesday afternoon at her home, 113 East Lewis street, from hemorrhage of the lungs. Mrs. Flock was seated at the dinner table eating her midday meal when the attack came upon her. Physicians were hastily summoned, but they were powerless to relieve the sufferer, and she died soon after. Mrs. Flock was twenty-three years of age and was married but three months ago.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the interment will be at Lindenwood.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Boyd.—Funeral services of Robert Boyd, of Cambridge City, who died at St. Joseph's hospital Tuesday morning, were held this afternoon. The interment was at Lindenwood.

Johnson.—Funeral services of Peter Johnson were held this afternoon from the Peltier undertaking parlors. Johnson's fellow laborers upon the intercepting sewer provided for the burial.

CRITICIZES GERMAN POLICY.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Minister Wu Ting Fang was greatly interested today in Germany's note to the powers asking combined action in a demand that those responsible for the troubles in China be punished as an indispensable preliminary to any peace negotiations. When seen at the legation he had before him a copy of the published text of the note.

"I can hardly believe that this step has been taken," said he, "and if it has, it is so unfortunate in its influence upon the general question, that I am greatly in hopes Germany will reconsider. The condition imposed upon China would be very hard. It would amount to determining one of the subjects of negotiation before negotiations had commenced. The Chinese envoys are invested with complete power to make terms with the powers, so that when the negotiations are opened, this question and all others will be proper subjects for consideration and final settlement by those having complete authority to deal with them."

"But to take one subject up in advance, settle it, and make its execution an indispensable preliminary to negotiations, is extremely hard."

"Suppose the situation was reversed, and this unfortunate trouble had occurred in some one of the countries now dealing with China. In the midst of excitement suspicion might have been directed against persons high in authority, even against the members of the royal family in that country. Would that country, when the question of settlement came up, for a moment, consider the surrender of those persons vaguely suspected, or would it not ask that all questions be considered by the court which was to pass upon the entire subject?"

"Who could tell to who this condition would apply? There have been intimations against those very high in Chinese affairs, but it would be very hard, yes, impossible, to say in advance, before the negotiators had considered the question, that these persons should be given up."

"Who would furnish the proof? It is an indispensable requisite, according to your recognized judicial methods that persons accused have the right to be heard, and that their evidence shall be taken into account in proving an accusation."

"Under these circumstances I am most hopeful that Germany's note is less positive than the published reports indicate. Recent indications have been that the difficulties over beginning peace negotiations have been overcome, and that very soon the negotiations would begin. For that reason I feel that it would be unfortunate to impose a condition which, being impossible, would bring the negotiations to a halt. The effect of such a stop in all proceedings would be of disadvantage to all parties concerned, to the powers as well as to China. In short, its effects would be so far reaching that I am extremely anxious that Germany may see her way clear to reconsider the proposal."

BOXERS BEHEADED.

New York, Sept. 19.—A dispatch to the Herald from Hong Kong says: The mandarin of the Nanton district have required the native Christians to send an account of their losses for compensation, and the names of the "rowdies" who committed the outrages.

Two ring leaders have been decapitated and their heads exhibited in the mission church at this ing.

Ever increasing bodies of rowdies on the north river are plundering villages.

MARK HANNA ABOUT DECIDED

SUCCESS ENCOURAGES HIM

MUCH PRESSURE TO GET HIM TO SPEAK.

GOING TO NEW YORK SUNDAY

WILL SPEND LAST TWO WEEKS IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Senator Hanna, encouraged by the reception given his speech yesterday at the Commercial McKinley club meeting, has about decided to go upon the stump during the last two weeks of the campaign. He will leave Sunday night for New York, where he will remain ten days, at the end of which time he will return to Chicago to resume personal control of the national campaign. Today several delegations, one from the Springfield (Ill.) district, one from Indiana, and another from Kansas, the latter headed by National Committeeman Mulvane, called on Senator Hanna and asked him to make campaign speeches.

"As the constant drip of water wears away the hardest stone, you fellows may get me yet," said the senator to his visitors.

"I am becoming more and more impressed with my ability as a campaign speaker. But then I am not paid to make speeches. My salary is drawn for other work. However, I shall probably make a few speeches in Chicago and may conclude to devote considerable of my time toward the latter part of the campaign to speech-making."

Tomorrow night Senator Hanna will make a speech at the Marquette club banquet.

Chairman Johnson and Secretary Walsh, of the democratic national committee, today characterized Senator Hanna's speech of yesterday as "bancombe."

"I observe," said Secretary Walsh, "that Senator Hanna asserts that there are no trusts in this country and at the same time he charges that Senator Jones is a member of the cotton bale trust."

SENATOR HANNA'S SPEECH. In the course of his speech yesterday before the Commercial McKinley club, Senator Hanna said:

"I wish I could have together on this platform William J. Bryan and Senator George F. Hoar, that each might tell his reasons for opposing expansion, or 'imperialism.' Senator Hoar would convince you that he opposes it from conscientious motives, but is on all other points a unit with the party from which he differs in that one respect, and that he is a supporter of William McKinley. With these two together I would tear the mask off of that hypocrite, William J. Bryan. (Cheers and hisses.) One stands on the firm foundation of his convictions of right and the other on the flimsy foundation of hypocrisy. Bryan has been afraid to push the silver issue because he wants to carry New York and some other eastern states. He tried imperialism, and made from five to fifty speeches a day, his audiences growing less and less every day. It is his trump and last card, and we will hold him down if our great corporations of amalgamated capital are in the interests of the manufacturer, then are not labor organizations and combinations in the interests of the workman?"

THE MINER'S FRIEND.

"I was the first man in Ohio to recognize organize labor in 1871 and while that organization of bituminous coal miners existed we never had a strike. I believe in arbitration between labor and capital, and in 1897, when I stood before 7,500 men and women in Cincinnati I told them that if they would prove to me that I had ever wronged any man working for me or urged the reduction of his pay I would resign from the United States senate next day, and the offer still stands."

"I would like Mr. Bryan or any other democrat to tell me what a trust is. I believe there is not a trust in the entire United States. There is a national law and in every state there is a law against trusts. They cannot exist, and every law against trusts, national or state, has been the product of republican law makers, and the credit is due the republican party. I have no objection to the democrats opposing trusts but they have not got any patent on it."

TOUCHES ON PHILIPPINES. "Bryan tells what he would do if elected. His first act would be to haul down the American flag in the Philippines. (Cries of 'No, no.')

Well, that is what he says he would do, but the American people would not let him. Then he would establish a 'stable government' probably with Aguinaldo at the head of it. Think of it. Pull down our flag, remove our troops and leave the brave dead, our boys in blue, to the tender mercies of Aguinaldo?"

"Judging from the past, Aguinaldo would soon shock humanity, and the nations would interfere as we did in China. Bryan talks of the Monroe doctrine and advocates a protectorate in the Philippines. The Monroe doctrine was established for the western hemisphere, but Bryan would spread it all over the world. If that is not imperialism then tell me what it is. I am for peace, but not for peace at any price, and not while the brigand Aguinaldo is hanging in the bushes shooting down our soldiers. Bryan is opposed to a tariff as a trust creator, but the workmen know that the tariff is their protector. He shows in his rosy pictures what he would do if elected, and beside his picture stands as something monumental the work that McKinley has done. Bryan will stand on any platform they make for him, ride any hobby, endorse any issue. Yes, he will even abuse me for the sole purpose of being president. That is all he wants. (Cheers. 'You're all right.')

Yes, I'm all right, for I talk about things I know all about, and I don't lie, either. Cast your votes in your own interests and not in the interests of Mr. Bryan. The importance of this campaign is greater than ever before known in the country, because any reversal of the policy of the government would bring about a change in commercial interests which would dwarf the awful storm at Galveston. It would mean a commercial revolution, from which this country would not soon recover."

ROOSEVELT'S TOUR.

Rexburg, Idaho, Sept. 19.—Governor Roosevelt's special train left Butte, Mont., at 2 p. m., en route to Pocatello, Idaho. A stop was made at Market Lake, Idaho, at the request of Senator Shoup. Senator Carter introduced Governor Roosevelt to the crowd from the back platform, but the stop was not long enough for a speech. At Rexburg an address was made to the people at the opera house.

HOWARD DENIES THE CHARGE

SAYS HE IS NOT THE MAN WHO SHOT GOEBEL.

Defense Starts Out to Prove That the Defendant was Not the Man Seen Running.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 19. In the trial today of James Howard, charged with being principal in the shooting of Governor Goebel, the defense began the introduction of testimony. The defense said proof will be introduced to show that Howard arrived in the city only thirty minutes prior to the assassination and did not go to the state house until several hours after the tragedy; that Howard was then and had been clean shaven for a year and that he was not the man seen running from the capital grounds or later standing on the steps of one of the buildings as that man according to a witness had a beard.

Howard then took the witness stand. He testified that his train was late and that he went from this train to a hotel and was there when Goebel's body was carried by.

Howard, in a general way contradicted everything of an incriminating nature told against him by James Subbelsfeld and other witnesses in regard to alleged remarks concerning the murder of Goebel.

RACE POSTPONED.

Indianapolis, Sept. 19.—Special.—The match race between those two kings of the turf, Searchlight and Anacanda, at the state fair grounds today, was postponed until tomorrow on account of rain. The two great pacers have attracted much interest.

Among the passengers on a French steamer that sailed last week for Europe was a waiter employed in a New York restaurant until it became necessary, on account of his health, for him to return home. He carried with him a draft for $5,000, which represented the amount of his savings in this country during the past three years.

According to the Sioux Indian weather prophets it's going to be a hard winter. These predictions are based on the fact that the buffalo grass shows a heavy crop of seeds, which the redskins declare, is a sure sign of a severe winter and deep snow.

PRESIDENT KRUGER CHANGES HIS ARRANGEMENTS.

Has Accepted Offer of Netherlands Government to Place a Warship at His Disposal.

Lorenzo Marques, Monday, Sept. 17.—Mr. Kruger, the former president of the South African republic, will not sail for Europe on the German steamer Herzog, Monday, Sept. 24, as he originally intended.

WILL LEAVE IN A WARSHIP.

The Hague, Sept. 19.—The government of the Netherlands has been notified of Mr. Kruger's acceptance of its offer to place a warship at his disposal to convey him from Lorenzo Marques to Holland.

ROBERTS REPORTS.

London, Sept. 19.—Lord Roberts telegraphs from Nelspruit, Vaal river colony, under date of Tuesday, Sept. 18, that the town was occupied on the previous day without opposition. He adds that he is in communication with General Buller and is able to send him supplies.

Lord Roberts further says that General Buller reports that the bulk of his opponents now are mercenaries and Cape Colony rebels.

SPICES

No food product is as much manipulated and adulterated as are the spices which are so necessary an adjunct to the household. This manipulation is so generally known, that pure food laws were passed by a number of states in an endeavor to stop the practice, but without avail. Recognizing the conditions as they exist, we carry a line of "PURE FOOD" GROUND SPICES, and guarantee them to be absolutely free from any admixture whatever. The following comprises a full list of our "PURE FOOD" spices:

The liability to disease is greatly lessened when the blood is in good condition, and the circulation healthy and vigorous. For then all refuse matter is promptly carried out of the system; and otherwise it would rapidly accumulate —fermentation would take place, the blood become polluted and the constitution so weakened that a simple malady might result seriously.

A healthy, active circulation means good digestion and strong, healthy nerves.

As a blood purifier and tonic S. S. S. has no equal. It is the safest and best remedy for old people and children because it contains no minerals, but is made exclusively of roots and herbs.

No other remedy so thoroughly and effectually cleanses the blood of impurities. At the same time it builds up the weak and debilitated, and renovates the entire system. It cures permanently all manner of blood and skin troubles.

Mr. E. E. Kelly, of Urbana, O., writes:
"I had Bozema on my hands and face for five years. It would break out in little white pustules, crusts would form and drop off, leaving the skin red and inflamed.
The doctors did me no good. I used all the medical soaps and salves without benefit. S. S. S. cured me, and my skin is as clear and smooth as any other."
Mrs. Henry Siegfried, of Cape May, N. J., says that twenty-one bottles of S. S. S. cured her of Cancer of the breast. Doctors and friends thought her case hopeless.

Richard T. Gardner, Florence, S. C.,

BICYCLE ICE TRIP.

Dawson to Skagway, Alaska, by Bicycle.

E. P. Leroy, a newspaper correspondent, was the first one to make the trip successfully from Dawson to Skagway, 550 miles, over the ice on a bicycle. He was eight days on the way and encountered one of the heaviest snowstorms of the season.
He comments on the universal fact that men in the Arctic climate have scurvy and stomach trouble because of poorly cooked food.

He says when he first went to Alaska he had a good stomach, but it finally gave out; and one day in his search for something that a man without an appetite could eat, he came across some packages of Grape-Nuts food. He knew of the food and its value and was willing to pay one-quarter of an ounce of gold dust ($4.00) for one package.

He says: "I can assure you the satisfaction of getting something I could eat and digest without suffering was well worth the price. As soon as it had proven to be just what I wanted, I bought the whole lot, and from that day to this, Grape-Nuts food has constituted my chief article of diet."

"I find that Grape-Nuts is quickly picked up as soon as a new lot comes to camp. There is nothing known that gives the miner and frontiersman the strength, with so little volume as Grape-Nuts food, and it is always ready for use, being perfectly cooked, and can be eaten dry or with a little cream, milk or water, hot or cold, just as a man likes. I could not have taken any food that would have carried me through my long journey on the ice so well as Grape-Nuts."

W. H. McIntyre, a prominent Au-

the north.

Mrs. Samuel Kimball is seriously ill at the home of Mrs. E. L. Beaver, in Lakeside.

Mrs. Henry Lagemann and baby have gone to Lima, Ohio, for a few days' visit with friends.

Miss Josie Holland, of Peru, is visiting the family of Nathan Murphy and family, of Pine street.

Mrs. J. S. Greenwald, of VanWert, returned home yesterday after a week's visit with her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. William Donnell, of Walnut street.

Mrs. Mary Smith and daughter, Miss Ada Smith, of Philadelphia, left last night for this city, after a most pleasant visit with Captain and Mrs.
H. M. Diehl. Mrs. Smith is the captain's sister and this is her first visit

Finley Peter Dunne, author of the
"Mr. Dooley" papers, has decided to make New York his permanent residence. He has resigned as managing editor of the Chicago Evening Journal.

The fact that Charles S. May, ex-Lieutenant Governor of Michigan, has announced his determination to vote the straight democratic ticket so soon after Colonel Roosevelt's speechmaking tour in Michigan is, of course, only a coincidence.

Dr. I. Zacharie, who died in London last week was a famous chiropodist who went to Washington during 'he 'vil war and offered his services to the army. They were accepted and he good he did to the soldiers suffering from long marches was publicly recognized. The doctor always made the claim that he helped to arrive the terms of peace with Jefferson Davis. Zacharie was a native of Charlestown, S. C. He died quite wealthy.

Henry Burkholder, on board the United States ship Brooklyn, now at Taku, China, writes to a family in Maryland that during the looting of Pekin by the troops of the allied Christian nations one soldier, an American marine, secured a box of diamonds for which Admiral Seymour subsequently offered $20,000.

The increase of nearly 35 per cent.
in the emigration from Germany for the last eight months over the corresponding period of last year is a fact that will doubtless be variously explained. It is undoubtedly not pleasing to the German emperor and he may be relied on to say something startling about it. Discussion of the matter can hardly enter seriously into the political campaign in this country, since such of the emigrants as have come here will not be able to vote at this election.

Chairman Hanna yesterday in his Chicago speech said: "I would like Mr. Bryan or any other democrat to tell me what a trust is. I believe there is not a trust in the United States." This leaves one in doubt whether Uncle Mark is calling for information or inflating a bluff. In another part of his speech he wants to know what's what about the New York ice trust and the round-cotton-bale trust, in both of which he says democrats are interested. Mr. Hanna and himself should get together.

The decision of the republican campaign managers to make a bonfire out of the 200,000 printed copies of the great imperialistic speech on the Philippines by Senator Beveridge, which President McKinley and his followers liked so much at the time it was delivered seems to show that at this stage of the campaign matters need a little warming up. The fact that the copies were all neatly wrapped separately ready for mailing will make the blaze all the bigger. Although the speech was printed for the republican managers the work is paid for by the government and not out of Mr. Hanna's campaign fund.

Journal saying that Charles Eckhart, prohibition candidate for governor, has withdrawn from the race, has caused so much comment in all parts of the state that Mr. Eckhart has written for the next issue of the prohibition state organ a statement, saying: "So long as there is a saloon in the land and a brewery and distillery that will debauch our manhood and outrage our womanhood, and make it possible that our boys and girls shall not be brought up under proper influences; so long as there is a party in existence that will uphold the canteen and saloon; so long as there is a paper in the field that will cater to the whisky element and so long as I have a drop of blood in my veins and any money I shall fight the liquor traffic and never cease to give my vote and voice abolish it."

The viciousness with which Senator Hanna attacked Mr. Bryan in a speech delivered Tuesday in Chicago by the republican chairman seems to argue that something has jarred the usually amiable Ohio politician. He called the democratic presidential candidate a hypocrite and wished he could have Senator Hoar on the same platform with Bryan to unmask the terrible man from Nebraska. It might be more to the point to bring forward the anti-imperialist speeches delivered in the senate by Mr. Hoar, but that at present is neither here nor there. Mr. Hanna is evidently not getting good news either from home or elsewhere, and his temper suffers acutely from the stress of conviction that all is not going well.
The campaign fund does not swell with the readiness that proves the big business interests of the country view with panicky alarm the possibility of democratic success, and that is as serious a matter itself as the fact that the "jingling of the guinea" is low in the land.

The coldest temperature experienced by Sir George Newnes' expedition to the south pole was 52 degrees below zero and occurred in August.
The party discovered near Robertson Bay mountains exceeding 12,000 feet in height, and penetrated farther to the south (70 degrees 50 minutes) than any previous expedition.

IS GRAND CHIEF

OF INDIANA KNIGHTS OF THE
GOLDEN EAGLE.

F. H. HILGEMANN IS HONORED

GRAND LODGE MEETING HELD
IN INDIANA.

HE DIED AS WAS FORETOLD

INDIANA MAN WARNED OF
DEATH BY ANGEL VISIT.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 18.—The tenth annual session of the grand lodge, Knights of the Golden Eagle, and of the Ladies of the Golden Eagle met in this city yesterday, the knights having 100 past chiefs and 150 other members present. Eighty-nine delegates attended the women's meeting. The knights closed their meeting last night with the selection of Richmond as the next meeting place and the election of the following officers: Grand chief, F. H. Hilgeman, Fort Wayne; vice chief, C. C. Childers, Anderson; sir herald, John W. Carey, Muncie; high priest, E. S. Dickson, Windsor; first guardsman, Charles Bartonia; second guardsman, Elvin
L. Bowman, Winchester; representative to supreme castle, William Bowland, Anderson; trustees, Joseph Patchell, Union City, and Por-tense Knight, Marion; keeper of exchequer, J. B. Fortenbaugh, Bartonia; grand master of records, Ross Boon, Muncie.

Past Supreme Chief E. V. Moore, of Sidney, Ohio, and Supreme Vice Chief S. M. Harland, of Union City, were present. Reports showed that there are 2,068 members in the state.
During the past year new castles have been established at Kokomo and Richmond.

The ladies will not complete their work until this afternoon. Their reports showed over $1,000 on hand, and new lodges at Kokomo and Richmond. The degree of grand templar was conferred on thirty-four candidates yesterday, while the knights had more than fifty. The following officers were elected last evening:
Sitting past grand, Minnie MacDonald, Muncie; grand templar, Mrs.
Bennett, wife of Dr. Bennett, of Marion; vice templar, Phoebe Wickerham, Albany; high priestess, Sarah Welch, Harrisville; marshal, Sadie Wright, Union City; guardian of records, India Harris, Richmond; guardian of exchequer, Alice Shricker, Union City; guardian of inner portal, Lydia Bostick, Anderson; guardian of outer portal, Mattie Bal-son, Richmond; guardian of music, Eva Morton, Bartonia; trustee, Florence Jackson, Anderson.

DIED AS FORETOLD.

Frankfort, Ind., Sept. 18.—Henry Classmeyer, sr., is dead at his home in this city of neuralgia of the heart.
He was ill less than half an hour.
Mr. Classmeyer, sr., was one of the best known business men of the city.
He was 65 years old, and was born in Germany. There is a remarkable chain of circumstances connected with his death, inasmuch as he had been warned by a dream or vision that the hour was near at hand. The facts are detailed by his family.

A few days prior to his death his family noticed that he appeared considerably worried about something of which he was reluctant to speak.
After much persuasion, however, he related to them a dream which he said he had a night or two previous.
While he was asleep a form resembling that of an angel, beautiful and in white raiment, appeared to him and announced that he had but a short time to live.

This vision said that it was not permitted that the exact date should be made known to him, but that he would be called at the exact expiration of either one year, one month, one week or three days. After making this declaration the vision vanished, and Mr. Classmeyer awoke. He noted the hour, a few minutes after midnight, and he attempted to dismiss the dream from his memory, but it had so impressed itself upon him that he found it impossible to escape its haunting influences. Then he told his family, and a few immediate friends, and they tried without avail to cheer him up.
The remarkable fact is, his sudden death occurred exactly one week, almost to the minute, from the time he awakened from his strange dream.
He had been in good health prior to the fatal attack of neuralgia. The strange coincidence of his dream and death is the subject of much comment in this vicinity.

THEY'LL BURN MORTGAGE.

Peau, Ind., Sept. 18.—The congregation of the First M. E. church will hold a jubilee Thursday and Friday to celebrate the lifting of the church mortgage, at which time the mortgage will be burned. W. W.

Lockwood, president of the board of directors, will preside, and Rev. A.
S. Wooten, who bought the church lot; Rev. E. L. Seamons, who built the church, and Rev. E. E. Neal, who built the parsonage, will take active part. Dr. M. S. Marble, presiding elder, will be one of the speakers.
The original church was founded in 1831, and the old brick church, for which the present structure was substituted, was built in 1852. Nine years ago work was begun on the present church building, with an available fund of $10,000. When completed there remained an indebtedness of $25,000, to lift which the congregation has worked systematically and successfully. Rev. Percy Powell is pastor, and has been untiring in his efforts, but much credit is due

A CROOK CONVICTED.

Maion, Ind., Sept. 18.—"Pod" Barnes, alias "Huntington Whitey," the crook, was convicted in the Grant circuit court yesterday afternoon of assault and battery with intention to murder Chief of Police White, the first week of last June, and he was committed under the indeterminate sentence act. Chief White had arrested Barnes on suspicion.
The officer had hardly started with his prisoner to the jail when the latter turned on him, and with a pistol he took from his clothes, almost succeeded in killing White. It was only by the officer's supreme strength that he saved his life.

THE COMPANY BLUFFED.

Elkhart, Ind., Sept. 18.—Frank Reno, foreman of a Big Four construction gang, was arrested for fighting on one of the company's trains. Trainmaster Courtwright representing the prosecution. The gang thereupon struck because of his arrest and the prosecution was abandoned.

North Manchester, Ind., Sept. 18.—
The thirteen-year-old daughter of Joseph Ott, near this city, some weeks ago was stricken with typhoid fever. Last Saturday lockjaw added its complications and there is little hope of recovery.

REFORM LAW RESPONSIBLE.

Goshen, Ind., Sept. 18.—The tax levy of Elkhart county for the years 1899-1900 averages thirty-nine cents and it is lower than during any two years for the past fourteen years.
It provides for the payment of a floating indebtedness of $40,000 and the payment of $20,000 in bonds.
The credit for this low rate is given largely to the county reform law.

MUTILATED BY A HOG.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 18.—Edgar Seybold, nine years old, was attacked by a hog at the home of his aunt, near LaFaz, and had his arm broken in two places.

OFFICERS WILL PAY DUTY.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 18.—The officers of the hospital ship Solace will pay duty on the goods they brought over from China after all,
but they will make their payments in the shape of fines equal to the customs duties. Captain Winslow, in behalf of his subordinates, has made this agreement with the revenue officers who followed the vessel to the Mare Island navy yard. The goods consist of 135 packages of silks, China wares and other articles. The Solace brought over twenty Chinese without certificates, who will not be permitted to land.

CINCINNATI'S FESTIVAL.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 18.—The Cincinnati fall festival opened today with a gorgeous street parade in which all local organizations and industries were represented. At Music hall, Governor Nash, Senator Foraker, Congressmen Bromwell and Shattuck, Mayor Fleischmann and others delivered addresses.

PRODDING THE PORTE.

Constantinople, Sept. 18.—Lloyd Griscom, United States charge d'affaires, has made verbal representations to the porte demanding the release of an Armenian who, it is claimed, is a naturalized American citizen and who was arrested upon the charge of belonging to the Armenian revolutionary committee. Investigation has been ordered and if the prisoner is found to be an American citizen he will be released.

MARCUS DALY BETTER.

New York, Sept. 18.—It was said at the Netherlands hotel today that Marcus Daly, who has been ill at that place for some days, was considerably improved.

Efforts are being made to abolish what is called "the free zone," a strip of territory 60 miles wide on the American border, into which foreign goods are admitted at much less than the usual duty.

FORT WAYNE PRESBYTERY
FAVORS A CHANGE.

Rev. Dr. Gwynne, of Elkhart, Is Elected Moderator for Six Months—Other Business.

The Fort Wayne Presbytery, which met at Lagrange on Monday and Tuesday, voted for a revision of the Westminster Confession of Faith after a prolonged session, during which exhaustive arguments, pro and con, were presented. The stated clerk of the meeting was instructed to prepare a communication to the committee appointed by the general assembly, in which the attitude of the Fort Wayne Presbytery will be set forth. This committee, of which ex-President Harrison is a member, will report to the general assembly held next May at Philadelphia, and if a majority of Presbyteries are in favor of the revision the required changes will be made.

Rev. Dr. Gwynne, of Elkhart, was elected moderator of the Presbytery and delegates were appointed to the meeting of the Northern Indiana synod to be held at Crawfordsville, of which Rev. Dr. D. W. Moffat, Rev.
Dr. J. L. Leeper and Rev. Dr. J. A.
P. McGaw, and James English, all of this city, are members. Dr. Mc-Gaw read a report on foreign missions, which was ordered printed for distribution among the churches of the district. The sessions adjourned to meet on October 1 in Lagrange, at which time Rev. Warren will be ordained and installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church in that

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more GRAIN-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. GRAIN-O is made of pure grain, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about 1/4 as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

TO HEAR A GIFTED SPEAKER

TWO ADDRESSES BY WILLIS BROWN, OF CHICAGO.

Willis Brown, of Chicago, president of the Young People's Temperance Federation of America, is to deliver two addresses in Fort Wayne this week under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Mr. Brown's mission in this city is to aid the crusade against the cigarette.

Friday evening he will speak at the Plymouth Congregational church and on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock he will address a mass meeting at the Baptist tabernacle. Mr. Brown comes with the most earnest endorsements of both pulpits and press, and his talks are intensely practical, but enlivened by a wealth of humorous illustrations that bring out the forceful points of his theme. He is said to be a most engaging speaker.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Judge Edward O'Rourke and A. E. Thomas talked to a large audience at Eel River Center school house Tuesday evening. W. A. Johnson presided and a quartet from Chubbuck sang campaign songs to entertain the audience before and between the speeches. The quartet was composed of Byron Madden, Fred Schilling, George Kichler and Charles Harter and is managed by F. M. Richards. Organ and violin duets were rendered by Miss Mabel Starnets and Miss Dearborn.

The Fort Wayne Democratic club held an interesting meeting in the circuit court room last evening. H. C. Berghoff, W. H. Shambaugh and D. L. Harding made short addresses and plans for the campaign were discussed. Mr. Shambaugh and F. E. Purcell were elected delegates to the National Association of Democratic clubs, which meets in Indianapolis October 3.

Capt. H. W. Dickman has called a meeting of the Bryan's Soldiers' club, which will be held in the assembly room of the new court house this evening.

The republicans are arranging to organize rough rider clubs in each of the city wards. Wednesday evening the Seventh will organize at Anderson hall; Friday evening the Tenth ward will organize at the corner of Oliver and East Creighton avenue, and the Eighth and Ninth wards will organize Friday evening.

C. E. Everett will address the Soldiers' Sons' and Citizens Republican club next Monday evening.

The Tippecanoe Marching club will meet this evening and select material for uniforms.

Colonel Roosevelt will deliver an address at Princess rink on the afternoon and evening of October 10.

Ron. John L. Griffiths, the foremost republican orator in Indiana, will speak for the republicans of Fort Wayne in the hall at republican headquarters Friday evening, Sept. 28. Mr. Griffiths is always sure of a good audience in Fort Wayne, for his oratory, if not his views, is admired by all who have ever heard him.

Hon. John P. Irish, gold democrat, campaigning under auspices of the republican national committee, will speak at the Masonic Temple next Saturday evening, the meeting to be in charge of local gold democrats.

Mr. Irish is a captivating orator and has the happy faculty of being able to employ his talents brilliantly for whatever political party he is advocating.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE MEETS.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 19.—The sixth annual convention of the national municipal league opened this afternoon with about 100 delegates present. In the absence of President James C. Carter of New York, First Vice President Charles Richardson of Philadelphia, presided. This convention is the starting point of active work in the adoption of the so-called municipal program adopted at the Columbus convention last year. The program embraces three branches of activity; embracing the power of cities by providing so far as possible for home rule; enforcing carefully devised restrictions against the abuses of municipal power; and regulating the granting of franchises. Addresses of welcome were responded to by Chas. J. Bonaparte of Baltimore, chairman of the executive committee. Secretary Clinton Rogers Woodruff then read a paper on "A Year's Municipal Development." The report of the treasurer, General Burnham, of Philadelphia, was next submitted.

HUBER'S UNION.

The wind blowed most of the apples off last week which will make winter apples scarce.

The rally day exercises Sunday evening was a grand success and all seemed to enjoy themselves. We were glad to have the country board with us. We had 25 children dressed in eight different kinds of grain and while we sang the song "Bringing in the Sheaves" the children, in company with their teachers, marched into the church. The speakers were as follows: Address of welcome, J. C. F. McMaken, superintendent; E. A. K. Hackett, E. F. Yarnelle, A. D. Craig, S. S. Hall, L. Binkley. Mr. E. F. Yarnelle sang two solos, while Miss Allie DeVillbiss played the organ. The house was crowded and some had to stand up. An offering was taken for the American Sunday School Union which amounted to $4.75. While the exercises were in progress word came to our superintendent, Mr. McMaken, that his aunt, Mrs. Winton Bennett, was dead, and he and family attended the funeral Monday.

The attendance at Sunday school was very good last Sunday and everybody seemed interested.

John Hubler expects to go to California in a short time for his health.

Our superintendent will take part in the Sunday school convention in Jackson township Saturday evening and Sunday.

Rev. Hendricks will preach at Hubler's Union next Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Come and hear him. Sunday school immediately after.

Corn cutting is about completed in our vicinity.

Rev. Murray will preach at New Bethel next Sunday evening.

The long-needed rain is beginning to come.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Trevay, of Fort Wayne, visited Mr. and Mrs. McMaken last week.

The schools of Washington township opened Monday morning.

Miss Allie DeVillbiss has taken a school in Jackson township.

Frank Hubler, of Fort Wayne, was a visitor at John Hubler's Sunday and assisted in the rally day exercises at the chapel.

Ed Foinsett is on the sick list.

VOTED TO GIVE $10,000

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP AFTER A RAILROAD.

Proposition to Aid the Fort Wayne and Butler Line Wins by Big Majority.

Springfield township is in earnest in its desire to have the Fort Wayne and Butler railroad, and at a special election held in the township on Tuesday voted to give a subsidy of $10,000 for its construction, on condition that the line pass within one-quarter of a mile of the village of Maysville, and that depot facilities be established at that town.

The project has been very generally favored by the residents of Springfield township, and many of them have worked earnestly in its behalf. The result is shown in the substantial majority by which the aid was voted, there being 227 for the improvement, while but 159 citizens of the township voted "No."

There is general rejoicing, particularly among the people of Maysville, over the result, and the outcome is of course very gratifying to the Fort Wayne gentlemen who are laboring to secure the road. They regard the prospects as exceedingly bright, and the line will ultimately take the place of the present Eel River branch of the Wabash.

On October 10 the people of Cedar Creek township are also to vote on the proposition to give the line a subsidy of $10,000, and as the route finally selected will depend considerably on the aid given by the two townships, the result in Springfield township is likely to influence a similar decision in Cedar Creek.

RIOT IN SAN JUAN.

San Juan de Porto Rico, Sept. 19.—The plant of El Diario, the organ of the federal party, was completely destroyed by a mob last night. The type and presses were smashed. The supposed cause for the disturbances were articles attacking Mayor Egozco, who is a republican. No arrests were made. Munoz Rivera, the editor of the paper, is preparing a protest to Governor Allen on the ground that no protection was afforded by the authorities. The protest will be sent to Washington.

BEHIND THE BARS.

Tony Miller was arrested this afternoon by Officer John Pageler, on the charge of burglary. Some time Tuesday evening the offices of the Pottlitzer Fruit company on Harrison street were broken into and a money drawer, containing about $7, was rifled. Miller was suspected, having been around the place considerably lately, and immediately after his arrest broke down and confessed to having taken the money. He was locked up to await a hearing.

Rev. Otto Erbe, of Omaha, Neb., is in the city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Herbst, and will leave Friday morning for Chicago and Milwaukee.

SHE WAS A PHANTOM OF DELIGHT.

She was a phantom of delight
When first she gleamed upon my sight;
A lovely apparition sent
To be a moment's ornament;
Her eyes as stars of twilight fair,
Like twilight, too, her dusky hair,
But all things else about her drawn
From Maytime and the cheerful dawn;
A dancing shape and image gay
To haunt, to startle and to waylay.

I saw her upon nearer view,
A spirit, yet a woman too,
Her household notions light and free
And steps of virgin liberty;
A countenance in which did meet
Sweet sounds, smiles and good wit;
A creature not too bright or good
For human nature's daily food;
For transient sorrows, simple wiles,
Praise, blame, love, kisses, tears and smiles.

And now I see with eyes serene
The very pulse of the machine,
A being breathing thoughtful breath,
A traveler between life and death;
The reason firm, the temperate will,
Endurance, foresight, strength and skill;
A perfect woman, nobly planned,
To warn, to comfort and to command,
And yet a spirit still and bright
With something of angelic light.

THE LLAMA'S CURSE

A Story of Tibetan Magic.

The waiter brought us drink and the change out of Tom Martin's half sovereign. I pushed the latter over toward him with my left hand, and with the right raised the water bottle to dilute my whisky.

"Your change, Tom," said I.

"Yes, of course," said Tom, who was absorbed in the story he was telling me. He put out his hand as if to pick the money up, but seemed to remember something, for he drew his hand back suddenly.

"Good heaven!" said he, "and I had forgotten that!"

He took out his handkerchief, wrapped it around the forefinger of his right hand and then, with the forefinger so covered, gently scraped the money toward him, piece by piece, and earnestly looked at each coin.

"Now, look here, Tom," said I, "this is a very pretty story that you have been telling me, but don't try and give it an air of reality by a performance like that."

"You can believe it or not. Just as you like," said Tom, "but I tell you, Fred, that piece of money is counting along this way some day. I have seen it once and I left it on the table. You don't catch me touching any coin while I am certain that one is in circulation. But let me conclude what I was telling you."

"Lrga is one of the most peculiar places you could think of, and one of our first duties was to present ourselves to the grand lama. We had to get a palanquin, for it was only met by Europeans of our importance should go in state, and it was while en route that we suddenly came to the praying mill. This was a sort of 'roundabout,' with huge wooden posts sticking out at the side, which every Buddhist passing was supposed to take hold of and push the mill round at least once."

"What caused Phil to do what he did then I don't know, but something seemed to impel him to get out of the palanquin, make a run over to the mill, catch hold of one of the wooden posts and commence to push it around at its topmost pace. The square where the mill was erected was pretty well filled with people, and when some of those saw what had been done they came rushing toward us, shouting and gesticulating. Phil had undoubtedly committed a sacrilege, and I was fearful for his safety. These fanatical Mongolians, once their religion is assailed in any shape or form, would certainly have no mercy upon the assailant."

"Phil came hurriedly back to me, jumped into the palanquin and ordered the bearers to get on. But they were struck dumb with terror. The mob came for us, smashed in the doors of the palanquin, dragged us out, and for two minutes there was the liveliest fight on record going on. We got the worst of it and, bruised, bleeding and insensible, were carted off to prison."

"We were taken before the grand lama, and then and there he ordered us to be sent across the Siberian frontier with the utmost dispatch. The next day we were hurried along under an escort of soldiers, and it was not long before we arrived at the frontier, the town of Mianashin, which really is the Mongolian portion of Kiakia. We were taken along to the yellow posts which marked the actual frontier, and there the soldiers of the lama stopped. We were removed from the palanquin in which we had been carried and were commanded to sit down a few yards from the posts. Not 20 feet away were the black and white posts of the Russians, and it was indeed something to gladden our eyes to see the brown coat and the astrakhan fez of the Russian Cossack who stood there on sentry."

"Our guards spread themselves out, then there came forward a Buddhist priest, who began to talk to us in a jargon which, of course, we could not understand. He finished at length and produced from his robe a wire on which were threaded some hundreds of brass 'cash,' which the Chinese always carry. He took two of the 'cash' off the wire and laid them in front of us on the ground."

"Then the priest began waving his arms about, and the Mongolians took out their hand prayer mills and began turning them for all they were worth. The voice of the priest then rose on the air. He said three or four words and spat deliberately at each of the coins which had been put on the ground before us."

"That was all. The priest departed, the soldier escorted us to the posts, the Russian sentry presented his rifle and we presented our passports. We passed over and breathed the comparatively free air of Russia. Our first duty when we were in Kiakia was to go straight to the governor and lay our complaint before him. He was agitated when he heard of the ceremony at the frontier, and told us that the Buddhist priest had put into circulation gold coins which had received the sun god's curse and that these coins would circulate throughout the world, harmless to everybody except the two they were destined for. The instant possession of either of these by the person cursed would mean immediate destruction."

"Nor was this all, the coins might not come to us as brass 'cash,' they might come to us as a kopeck piece, or as a ruble, as marks or pfennigs, as francs or centimes, as anything, wherever it might be. We should never know when they were coming; we should take them in the ordinary way; we should handle them, but only for one moment, the next moment we should be dead."

One day Tom sent for me, and it was to tell me that he was going to be married. This struck me as something peculiar, for I had thought Tom Morton was one of the last men likely to fall in love. The wedding day came off, everybody was pleased, and Tom and his bride went away to the south of France. A few more weeks rolled by and Tom returned. There was to be a reception at their London house, and the invitation which was sent me was one which I could not well refuse.

In the evening I had the opportunity of a chat with Tom. We had gone out on the balcony, which overlooked the garden, and there I purposely made reference to the superstition which he had for the lama's coin.

"Perhaps," said I, "now that you have gone unsatisfied all these years, you are beginning to lose faith in the potency of that prophecy?"

"Well, to tell you the truth," said Tom, "I am getting a little slacker about it, and when he begins to reason superstitious on any subject is likely to get knocked out. It has struck me that, after all, it may be but mere foolery."

We entered the room once more, but I was dying for a smoke, and making some excuse, I slipped away to the smoking room. I had been sitting there about five minutes when Tom Morton came in.

"What do you think?" he said. "My wife has got this Mongolian story into her head so much that she is perfectly ridiculous. She has been telling everybody about it, and, of course, they are all laughing, and the worst of it all is that she is laughing with them at me. But come, come, old fellow. I want to show you something."

I rose, threw my cigarette end away and followed him. We went along the corridor to the drawing room, which was crowded, and even as we entered I heard Mrs. Morton's voice.

"I really do believe it will be such fun," she was saying. "Here comes Tom, and now we will try. A coin, if you please, from each of you. Let me see—how many are there here?—26. Good! Then I want 26 coins. Now, Tom," she said, "take off that wretched glove and let us demonstrate that you can touch money with your ungloved hand!"

Tom was pale, and I saw his brow shining with perspiration. He muttered something, but what it was was lost in the laughter and laughter which went around the room. With a quick, impulsive movement, he drew off his right glove.

"Well," he said, and I saw his lips wreath into a hard, unwhimsical smile. "I will take the coins just to show you that I am not afraid."

Then, one by one, his wife counted out the coins into his hand. Twenty were already there, when, unable to control the impulse which came over me, I started up and cried: "Drop it, Tom! Why challenge such a thing as that?"

He looked at me, and I saw how pale and how stern was his face. He said nothing to me, but merely turned to his wife with the whisper, "Go on!"

"Twenty-one, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27!"

"Twenty-seven," I cried, "what is that, there are only 26 people here, there is a mis!—But I could get no further. Tom had staggered back, his body shrunken in size. He fell to the floor. A deathlike silence fell over the assemblage. I strode over to my friend's prostrate form."

Tom was dead and cold, and in his right hand there were 27 coins. I looked at the top one; it was a German piece, value 20 marks. I took it to the light and gazed upon it. Across the profile of Emperor William II I saw a mark which described a true square, and then I knew that the lama's curse at length had had effect.—Penny Pictorial Magazine.

WHEN DOGS ARE SICK.

The Way to Give Medicine to These Highly Sensitive Patients.

In all treatment of a sick dog remember you are dealing with a highly sensitive and nervous patient. Be very gentle, avoid roughness or anything likely to alarm him. In giving him any liquid medicine do not open his mouth, but, placing him between your knees, with his face looking in the same direction as your own, gently raise his jaw and, pulling his lips away from his teeth on one side of his mouth, to form a cup or funnel, very slowly pour from bottle or spoon the quantity he is to have into it.

Keep his head raised for a minute or two, and if he does not swallow the dose insert a spoon between his front teeth. This will have the effect of drawing off his attention from the medicine and he will usually swallow at once. If the dose is a pill, bolus or anything solid, hold his head the same way as before mentioned, but with the left hand under lower jaw, press firmly on each side with thumb and finger at the junction of upper and lower jaws.

This will usually cause him to open his mouth, when the dose should be put into the mouth as far back as possible over the tongue for he will spit it out and close the jaws somewhat sharply, and in most cases the deed is done. If any trouble arises with the action of his front paws this may be got over by wrapping him round with a shawl or coarse apron.

When once you have got into the way of it, you will be surprised how simple it is. I am quite sure a practiced owner or kennel-man would dose a dozen dogs while a novice was making a bungle over one.—"All About Dogs," by Charles Henry Lane.

THE COLLAR BUTTON.

Its Blessings Realized Only by Those Who Have Lived Without It.

"In looking over a trunk full of old truck the other day," said the elderly man, "I came across a lot of old shirts with the buttons sewed on, and as I looked at them I realized anew what the collar button means to humanity. There have been greater inventions, surely, but not many that have conferred a more unalloyed blessing on mankind."

"The younger people of today, accustomed to the collar button always, cannot realize what it was to be without it. He can never know what it was to have shirts with the buttons sewed on—or not, as the case might be. Not so very many years ago, when the collar button was yet comparatively new, before persons had come to keep, as everybody commonly does now, a lot of buttons on hand, the man who had lost his collar button thought himself entitled to the sympathy of his fellows, but wrong as he might be by that loss he could not even guess at the anguish that in the sewed on button days filled the heart of the man who, when he came to put on his last clean shirt, found that key button, the one on the collar band, most important of all, gone entirely or only just hanging by a thread!"

"I knew a man once who had this happen to him and didn't swear. That was the only great thing he ever did, but I have always thought that that alone was enough to stamp him as a most extraordinary man."—New York Sun.

Ditched the Bishop.

"I remember once driving across the country with Bishop —," writes Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady of "A Missionary in the Great West" in the Ladies' Home Journal, "while discussing the nature of the soul. That is, the bishop was discussing. I was only pre-empting by a question now and then. We were on the rear seat of a wagon, with the driver on the front seat. It was a very dark night. In the middle of the bishop's exposition the wagon took a wild plunge, there was a crash, and over we went into the muddy ditch."

"I beg your pardon, genius," said the driver, who had retained control of the horses as we scrambled to our feet. "I was so interested in hearing the man discuss his immortal soul, which I hardly ever knowed that I had one before, that I clean forgot where we was and drove you plump into the ditch."

Counties That Teach Gardening.

School gardens were established in Belgium many years ago, and it is said that to them is due the prosperity of the rural population, the larger portion being engaged in truck gardening. After the introduction of agriculture into the public schools of France, by a law passed in 1883 school gardens increased in that country. Annual appropriations have been devoted to an extension of the system in Switzerland since 1885.

HER "SUSPICION CURE."

It Made Life One Lingering Honey-moon For Mrs. Jones' Adviser.

"I would be quite happy if my husband would not spend so much of his time at his club," said Mrs. Jones, with a sigh.

"Why don't you try the suspicion cure?" said her intimate friend.

"What in the name of Susan B. Anthony is the suspicion cure

MINERS MARCHING

Strikers Begin Their Crusade to Induce Men to Come Out and Trouble May Follow.

BIG STRIKE STEADILY SPREADS

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 19.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, after getting partial reports at Hazleton from his lieutenants this morning, made the unofficial statement that about 126,000 out of the 141,000 mine workers in the anthracite fields are idle today.

All of the strike leaders say they are confident that every mine will be tied up tight before the end of the week and the production of coal will be at a standstill.

Marching, the form of persuasion or coercion used by the Hazleton strikers in 1897, began in earnest early this morning in the Hazleton region. A determined band of strikers from McAdoo went to several mine settlements before daylight and induced several hundred men not to go to work this morning. It was this marching from mine to mine day after day in an effort to stop men from work that culminated in the awful massacre by sheriff's deputies three years ago.

Calvin Fardee, one of the most influential mine owners in the Hazleton region, gave out an interview today full of defiance in which he declared that the operators will never yield to the demands of the strikers and that it is a fight to the finish.

What is likely to become a serious feature of the situation is the stoppage of coal traffic and the consequent laying off of coal train crews. Carrying of coal is almost at a standstill in the Wyoming and Lackawanna regions and many hundreds of railroads are idle. These men are likely to take action designed to force the strike to a quick conclusion. Even the Reading company, which has more coal for sale than any other company, is feeling the effects of the strike and is shipping less coal today.

MITCHELL'S STATEMENT.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 19.—At noon today President Mitchell said:

"Most encouraging reports have been received from the Hazleton and Schuylkill districts. The most gratifying report was that 2,500 employees of the Philadelphia and Reading company at Mahanoy City and vicinity decided to strike. This is the first break of any magnitude among the employees of the Reading company and it is indicative of the course to be followed by the remainder of their employees from this time on. As we predicted at the beginning of this contest, the miners have in no instances violated the law and are all conducting themselves quietly, with an apparent determination to continue the contest until their eminently just demands have been acceded to."

Mr. Mitchell estimated that 126,000 men are now out.

STRIKE BEGINS TO HURT.

Seranton, Pa., Sept. 19.—The strike of the anthracite coal miners entered upon its third day with everything shut down in the First district except the West End company mine at Macaqua. This is the only mine in operation and the strike leaders made a strong but unavailing effort to close it. With this exception the tie-up in the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys is thorough, for not even a washery is doing business today hereabouts, despite the efforts yesterday to have several of them operated.

The owners have failed to make any agreement which insures their employees the wage increase demanded. The situation is made more complicated by this fact for within a few days must come the stoppage of street railway travel, the shutting down largely of the electric light service, and the possible closing of schools because of lack of coal.

"The necessities of the strike make this imperative," said Henry Collins, of the district executive board, this morning.

The tie-up of the mines has caused the laying off of every coal train crew in this region, and whatever coal is being moved is going out in the freight trains.

Only three Delaware and Hudson coal trains went north yesterday and three crews are marked out for today, but it is to be employed in dumping ashes for the road bed.

The Erie railroad is almost at a standstill. No coal is taken over the Honesdale branch and today the switching crew at that point was laid off. The Erie and Wyoming Valley, the Delaware and Hudson, the Ontario and Western, and the Lackawanna system are not moving a single coal train today in any direction, the strike being wholly responsible for this condition. The number of railroads idle in consequence reaches into the hundreds. This makes the interest of the railroad men in the strike keen, and they are willing to do everything required to bring about its quick ending.

At district headquarters it was predicted this morning by Nicholas Burke, a committeeman, that within another week, if some terms of settlement are not arranged the strike would make many more thousands idle.

An important conference is on at Hazleton today, from early reports received here, President Mitchell, National Committeemen James, Harris and Piersall, District Presidents Nicholas, Duffy and Fahey, and Secretaries Dempsey, Gallagher and Hartlein being all assembled there. National Committeeman Dilcher, stationed here, will not attend, as he goes to Carbondale, where a big meeting is to be held, and to which companies of strikers will march from Forest City, Archbald and the intervening points.

ONE THOUSAND MORE QUIT.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 19.—One thousand more miners employed at five collieries owned by the Union and Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron companies, and individual operators ceased work today in the vicinity of Mount Carmel, compelling the stoppage of the operations. This makes the tie-up complete in the Shamokin region, excepting the Locust Gap and North Franklin collieries, operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company.

A number of breakers are being run to put loose coal through the screens. With the exception of a few miners being mobbed by Hungarians near the Pennsylvania colliery last night everything was quiet and continues so. Detectives are maintaining a sharp look-out at the various collieries.

Sheriff Eugene Zerling, of Northumberland county, is sweating in a number of deputies.

President John Fahey, of the United Mine Workers of this district, reports a steady addition to the ranks of the strikers.

SOME COLLIERIES AT WORK.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 19.—More colliery is still shut up as tight as a drum. The other collieries in the Mahanoy district are at work today, despite reports last night that some of them might be tied up.

The precaution has been taken to swear in forty-five special policemen from different parts of the county to give protection to the non-strikers in that district.

WILL NEVER YIELD.

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—Calvin Fardee, owner of the Latimer and Harwood collieries, in the Hazleton district, in an interview today said: "Under no consideration will the operators yield to the United Mine Workers. It will be a fight to a finish, and the operators will win."

"So far as I am personally concerned I have ordered the mules to be taken out of the Harwood mine and put to pasture. I am preparing for a long strike."

My superintendent reports this morning that the pressure brought to bear upon my men at Harwood was so great that only a few came to work today, and the Harwood mine is practically at a standstill.

"At Latimer the men living at a distance from the mine did not appear for work this morning. The mine is working, but with a reduced force."

"I am informed that this morning a marching body went to Coleraine to intercept the mine workers there. So much has been published about the small wages paid to mine workers that I desire to make a statement showing the average earnings of all employees at the Harwood and Latimer collieries."

"At Harwood, from which 25,000 tons of coal were shipped in August, the net earnings of the 740 employees for that month amounted to $29,846.33, or an average of $40.00 per capita. At the Latimer colliery 34,000 tons of coal were shipped in August. We have there 822 employees. Their net earnings were $31,509.21, or an average of $38.33 per capita. The miners are better paid than the average working man."

Two more of the thirty-nine collieries operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company were compelled to close this morning, according to official advices received at the company's office in this city.

The two are the Reliance and Alaska, situated in the Mount Carmel district, and employing over 600 men. This makes the total Reading collieries now in operation thirty-four, and a number of those are working short-handed.

Besides the Reliance and Alaska those already shut down are the Burnside, Henry Clay and Bear Valley, situated around Shamokin. General Manager Henderson, of the coal company, stated today that the Reliance and Alaska collieries closed because the strikers intimidated and threatened those willing to work.

With respect to the other collieries, he said, no attempt would be made by the company to start up, as they were losing ventures at the best.

No news of the reported marching of striking miners at Lykens upon those operating the Williamstown colliery was received up to noon today at the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which controls those operations.

Manager Williams, who has direct charge of the mines in the Lykens district, is on his way to this city for a conference regarding the situation.

Secretary George H. Ross, of the collieries management, today said that if the men from the Lykens colliery follow out their published announcement and march on the Williamstown mine serious trouble will almost unquestionably result. A bitter feeling, he said, exists among the Williamstown men against the Lykens workers, because of the latter's attitude in past strikes at the Williamstown colliery and any attempt to force the Williamstown men out means fighting.

STRIKERS' RANKS GROW.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 19.—The ranks of the strikers in the Hazleton district were considerably increased today by recruits from nearly every colliery in the region that worked yesterday and Monday.

The most important movement occurred south of here this morning, when 110 striking mine workers of McAdoo made a victorious march through the south side.

They succeeded in tying up several operations and in further crippling the Coleraine colliery. The marchers started from McAdoo for Coleraine at 4 o'clock, headed by a drum corps. Coleraine colliery employs 977 men when running full, but of this number only half went to work yesterday. When the McAdoo men arrived at Coleraine this morning the news spread through the town and considerable excitement was occasioned for fear that the marchers had come to make trouble. They, however, were orderly and confined their energies principally to persuading the men not to start to work. The women, both English speaking and foreigners, were badly frightened and advised the Coleraine men to remain away from the mines.

When the whistle blew at Coleraine colliery it was found that only about 150 men had reported for work at No. 2 slope, which usually employs about 250 men. Buck Mountain slope and No. 1 slope of the same company were completely shut down. The breaker which handles the coal of the three slopes had only twenty-five boys working out of about 150.

The Van Winckle strippings, employing 260 men, failed to start this morning, the men there also having been persuaded to quit by the McAdoo marchers.

From Coleraine the McAdoo men went to Trescow, where they succeeded in closing the Tyley and McAdoo.

BRYAN AND HANNA

DEMOCRATIC LEADER TALKS OF THE OHIO MAN.

WILL NOT DEBATE WITH HIM

WOULD BE WILLING TO MEET M'KINLEY.

CAN STAND HIS CRITICISM

IF SENATOR HOAR CAN ENDURE HIS PRAISE.

Leavenworth, Kas., Sept. 19.—A special train over the Missouri Pacific bore Mr. Bryan out of Kansas City today. The change from the regular coaches, with their accompanying crowds and endless hand-shaking, was evidently most welcome to the presidential candidate for although he has made no complaint, it has been evident that the strain of the past few days, with no opportunity for rest or retirement has not had an agreeable effect on him.

This is the last of the three-days Kansas-Missouri border tour, and it was begun at 8 o'clock. The first stop was made at this historic city. Mr. Bryan spoke for half an hour from the rear platform.

The crowd which greeted Mr. Bryan was large and enthusiastic. Mr. Bryan said that the democratic platform is in the interest of the common people. He wanted not to injure the rich but to promote harmony among all classes.

"I have heard many definitions of heaven," he said, "but I have never yet heard man say that we would have two heavens, one for the rich and one for the poor. And if there is but one heaven, and if in that heaven the rich and the poor are to mingle together, possibly I can do some good if I help the rich and the poor to get acquainted in this world, so they will not have to be introduced when they cross the river."

While a candidate, his interests in the present contest was not, he said, circumscribed by that circumstance. He wanted the best principal of government maintained in his own children's interest and in the interest of other people's children.

Mr. Bryan declared that in order to be good in standing at the present time a republican must be able to change his convictions upon a moment's warning. The republicans had changed upon silver, the greenbacks, the income tax, upon military, and other questions. He referred to a report of a recent speech made by Senator Hanna, saying:

"I read in this morning's paper a speech made by Senator Hanna yesterday in which he said there are no trusts. When I used to want humorous rending I would go to those books which contained a collection of the writings of humorists. But now when I want to read something funny I read Mr. Hanna's serious campaign speeches. There are no trusts; can you expect the republican party to destroy the trusts when the leader of the republican party says there are no trusts?"

Mr. Bryan asserted that the republican party had completely changed its code of morality and had adopted the motto that might makes right. The party had been worse than it had been charged with being heretofore. There had been no criticism in its code of morality, but now it stands for the violation of all the principles present at their th of the party.

DEPENDS ON HANNA'S STATUS.

Mr. Bryan's attention was called to a speech made at Delhi, Ind., by Senator Hanna, chairman of the republican national committee, in which the senator was quoted as saying he was ready to debate imperialism with Mr. Bryan or any other democrat.

In reply to the question whether he would accept a challenge from Mr. Hanna, Mr. Bryan said:

"I know nothing of the matter except what appears in the papers. No challenge has been received and I would not accept it if it were. While I would be glad to debate public questions with the republican candidate for the presidency, I would not be willing to debate with one whose responsibility is less than my own. If I am elected I shall be president. If the republican committee will certify that Mr. Hanna is to be president in case of republican success I shall willingly meet him in joint debate."

CAN STAND IT IF HOAR CAN.

Mr. Bryan was also asked if he had anything to say in reply to Mr. Hanna's charge that he was influenced by sinister motives in securing the ratification of the treaty with Spain. To this he replied:

"I have given my reason for believing it better to ratify the treaty and declare the nation's policy by resolution and the voters have an opportunity to pass judgment upon my reasons. I must confess, however, that Mr. Hanna is an expert when he discusses sinister motives, but I can stand his criticism if Senator Hoar can endure his praise."

SPURGEON'S CHURCH REOPENED

London, Sept. 19.—The Metropolitan tabernacle was reopened today by Rev. Thomas Spurgeon, a son of the late Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon. Ira D. Sankey, the American evangelist, participated in the services. A very large congregation was present. Mr. Sankey, in the course of his remarks, said he was the bearer of congratulations from ten thousand friends in the United States.

HE FACES A SERIOUS CHARGE

ARTHUR TRENNARY ARRESTED FOR RIPTING THE MAIL.

Marked Decey Coin Found in His Possession, But He Protests Innocence—Hearing Saturday.

"Art" Trennary, who for nearly a year has been one of the night mail wagon drivers at the Fort Wayne post office, was arrested Tuesday evening on a charge of stealing money from the United States mail. Trennary was found at his home in Bloomingdale by Deputy United States Marshal Rose after a prolonged search, and was locked up in the Allen county jail. This morning he was taken before United States Commissioner Logan, who fixed his preliminary hearing for Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. In default of $300 bail Trennary was returned to jail, though he expresses confidence that he will be able to give the necessary bond, perhaps today. He is represented by Attorney Elmer Leonard.

Trennary protests his innocence, but the officers believe they have a clear case against him. Trennary is a cousin of the contractor who conveys the mails to and from the railroad stations in this city, and it is said originally lived at or near Ossian. For some time he has evidenced a desire to assist the clerks about the post office during odd moments, though this is in direct violation of the orders of Postmaster Page. Trennary has seemed to particularly enjoy operating the cancelling machine, and some weeks ago two registered letters for small amounts were missing.

Monday evening C. F. Kettler, the superintendent of mails, marked a silver half dollar and placed it in a letter addressed to a business house in this city, and this letter, with others, was placed upon the cancelling machine. Soon after Trennary ran the package of letters through the machine, an examination resulted in the discovery that Mr. Kettler's letter was missing. Early Tuesday morning Chief Allen forged the final link in the chain of evidence, for he approached a group of employees and requested a half dollar in exchange for two quarters, saying he desired to place it in a coin holder for mailing. The clerks had been advised of the plan and did not respond, but Trennary promptly drew from his pocket the marked half dollar and gave it to Mr. Allen. This coin is now in the possession of Postmaster Page, and within a very short time after the coin passed from Trennary's hands a warrant was issued for his arrest. Deputy Marshal Rose came to the city Tuesday evening and made the arrest as stated, entering Trennary's home just as he was changing his clothes to go to the Lake Shore train after the mail. Trennary is somewhat over 30 years of age and has a wife and one child. They are not at home and the accused man told the officer they were visiting in the country.

LAST OF THE "SIX HUNDRED."

Upper Sandusky, Ohio, Sept. 19.—The last of the Balaklava survivors, James A. White, is dead. He had lived near this place since 1857. The battle was made famous by Lord Tennyson's "The Charge of the Light Brigade," and from all that is now known Mr. White was the last one of the twenty survivors. Six hundred and twenty-five men made the charge and more than six hundred were killed.

The ladies of the Baptist church will give a social at the parsonage Thursday afternoon. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 8.

WITHDRAW OR FIGHT

Germany's Policy Raises a Fresh Crisis for United States in China.

PRESIDENT IS IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Sept. 19.—The general impression here is that the German note of yesterday, demanding the punishment of the Chinese officials responsible for the outrages upon foreigners as a condition precedent to peace negotiations, has brought the Chinese trouble to an acute crisis as far as the United States government is concerned. This conclusion is based on the belief in official circles that the Chinese government cannot accept the German proposition, so that it is now for the United States government either to withdraw its forces from China immediately or to join Germany and England, and perhaps some other of the allied powers, in a prolonged war with China.

Baron Von Sternburg, the German charge, just returned to Washington, called early at the state department today to talk with Mr. Adee, the second assistant secretary of state, in explanation of the points of the German note.

Mr. Wu, the Chinese minister, had preceded him, showing visible signs of nervousness and disquiet over the last move.

Mr. Adee made an appointment for him with Dr. Hill, who, having recovered from his indisposition, is again acting as secretary of state. Then Mr. Adee repaired to the white house to communicate to the president the substance of the conversations he had had with the two diplomats and to assist in the consideration of the German note. He refused to discuss the latter publicly in any phase.

Attention was directed in some quarters to the fact that in the very beginning, in the note of July 3d, Secretary Hay had notified the Chinese government that he expected that the guilty parties in connection with the outrages would be punished. However, this demand was not made a condition precedent to negotiations. Now the belief is growing that if the United States government is forced to a speedy decision as to the German proposition, it may resort to direct negotiations with the Chinese government, and having settled its scores with that government, withdraw from China, giving notice to the allied powers there of the arrangement made in order that that arrangement should remain in full force and unaffected by any settlement that the allies may make thereafter as to China.

It is believed that after talking over the situation with Attorney General Griggs and Mr. Adee today, the president reached a conclusion as to the response that should be made by this government to the German note.

Mr. Adee hurried back to the state department from the white house and after a talk with Dr. Hill began the preparation of an answer, embodying the president's views. It is believed that this draft is purely tentative for it is known that it is to be submitted to the president and to the attorney general, as well as to any other member of the cabinet who may return to Washington within the next twenty-four hours, before being forwarded. The German government is manifesting a disposition to secure a speedy disclosure of the views of the United States respecting its last proposition. This result is likely to be attained, though it is entirely possible that the American answer will involve a counter proposition, or at least will seek to prevent the threatened interruption of the efforts which are now progressing with such promise, looking to the initiation of peace negotiations.

It is said that the answer of our government cannot in any case be made ready before tomorrow. That any decision arrived at today has not changed the military situation is known from the fact that so far no additional orders have gone forward to General Chaffee.

EDICT COMMANDS REFORM.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—The Boersen Zeitung today prints a special dispatch from Shanghai, dated Monday, Sept. 17, saying that an imperial edict, dated Sept. 7, commands all the Chinese generals, under pain of death, to avoid hostile acts, orders all high officials to return to Peking and assist in restoring order and peace, and orders the suppression of the boxers, whose leaders must be captured.

A second edict, the dispatch adds, orders comprehensive reforms in the entire administration of the empire. The allies at Peking, it is also declared in the dispatch, must insist upon the emperor's return and the punishment of Kang-Yi and all the boxer leaders.

BRITISH ANSWER NOT SENT.

London, Sept. 19.—The British foreign office informs The Associated Press that no reply has yet been sent to the German note.

Referring to alleged telegram of Lord Salisbury to Li Hung Chang, outlined by the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express, the foreign office officials say the British premier has not sent any message to Li Hung Chang.

It is pointed out at the foreign office here that the Washington press messages averring that the British and Japanese governments have already announced their support of the German policy in China are unfounded so far as Great Britain is concerned.

PRESIDENT IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, Sept. 19.—President McKinley, accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou, reached Washington at 7:45 this morning from Canton. They were met at the station by Assistant Secretary Pruden and Adjutant-General Corbin, who, after today, will be acting secretary of war in the absence of both Secretary Root and Assistant Secretary McKlejohn. Soon after the president arrived Attorney General Griggs called to extend his greetings, postponing until a later hour the general consultation over the Chinese situation.

The complications which have arisen in connection with the Chinese situation decided the president to return to Washington at this time. The decision to come here was reached on Monday before the president had any knowledge of the demand for the punishment of the leaders of the anti-foreign movement. Attorney General Griggs is the only cabinet officer in Washington, and with him the president will go over the new developments in the situation.

Since the departure of Secretary Root Attorney General Griggs has been the ranking cabinet officer and has had charge of all important matters in the president's absence. The president, it is understood, has not sent out a call for the absent cabinet officials to return and those who come back will do so voluntarily.

Secretary Long has already notified the president that he will be back on Friday.

There is no such thing as a quorum of the cabinet for a session and if necessary one can be held with only one member.

Indeed the president's conference with Attorney General Griggs today was in reality a cabinet meeting.

The conference took place after Assistant Secretary of State Adee had talked with the president and had placed him in possession of all the details of the situation known at the state department.

Assistant Secretary of War McKlejohn also saw the president, but his visit, it is said, had no relation to the Chinese situation.

Mr. McKlejohn leaves tonight for Nebraska, where he will make a speech Saturday night, and, simply called to pay his respects. The president will return to Canton Friday night unless something unexpected occurs to detain him.

Senator Foraker, of Ohio, was also among those who saw the president. He stopped over on his way back to Ohio after a campaigning tour in

Turk washery, employing 250 men, and also prevailed upon the fifty men working at Crawford & Dugan's shippings not to go to work. From that place they proceeded to Honey-brooke and persuaded the men working at Carson's washery not to begin work.

The other collieries working on the south side, besides the crippled Coleraine, are Cox's at Braver Meadows, which is working full, and the Evans at Beaver Meadows, which is short-handed.

The Hazel mines at the Hazelton shaft of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, in this city, are practically dead, only a handful of men being at each place. No. 40 shaft of the same company is working very short-handed.

Operators in this district today complain that mine workers are being intimidated. They claim that many men are anxious to work, but they fear bodily harm and do not go to the mines for that reason.

The Van Winkle Coal company sent coal and iron police to the homes of miners on the south side this morning to ask them to return to work. They promised them protection while on their way to and from work and at the mines, but very few men, if any, went back.

This is "freemen's day" in Hazelton and a big street parade was held. There was a big crowd out, but no disorder was reported.

WILL NOT ARBITRATE.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 19.—The opening of the third day of the miners' strike finds no change in the Wyoming valley. All the collieries are idle, with the exception of the one at Moennagwa, which is still holding out despite all efforts on the part of the strikers to induce the men to quit.

The big demonstration of miners in Pittston last night has strengthened the lines of the strikers in that town. Everything is closed down this morning. The operators state none of their collieries are in operation. The operators in this section do not take kindly to the arbitration idea. Superintendent Lathrop, of the Lehigh Valley company, says:

"It is impracticable and impossible. A great corporation having millions of dollars of property could not place its interests in the hands of outsiders who know nothing about the property and about the manner of conducting the business. They might arbitrate to the ruin of the company's interest. There is too much at stake, too many details of business which a board of arbitration would know nothing about to make arbitration possible."

Mr. Lathrop voices the sentiments of all the operators and this fact being known leads the business community to believe that the struggle between the opposing forces will be a long and bitter one.

Some miners seek to realize the situation, too, and rather than spend a long period in idleness they are going to other parts of the country for work. The agents of the western railroads in this city say the best miners are going to Illinois, New York, Arizona and Washington.

EASTERN BANK FAILS.

Washington, Sept. 19.—The controller of the currency this morning received a telegram stating that by order of its board of directors the South Danvers National bank of Peabody, Mass., had closed its doors. The capital of the bank is $150,000; surplus and undivided profits, $70,463; individual deposits, $233,539; due to other national banks, $15,419; borrowed money, $106,270. Bank Examiner Ervin B. Bayle has been appointed receiver of the bank.

Bride of Three Months Dies From Hemorrhage of the Lungs—
The Funerals.

After an illness extending over a period of nearly one year, Mrs. Mary Wilder died shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday evening at her home, 184 Cathoun street. She was the wife of William Wilder, a barber, and death was due to chronic nephritis.

Mrs. Wilder was a native of Logan county, Ohio, and had reached the age of forty-one years, eleven months and thirteen days. Surviving her are the husband and two children—Minnie and Carl. Mrs. Wilder was a member of the West Jefferson street Church of Christ and of Degree of Honor No. 2.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 1 o'clock from the residence and at 1:30 from the West Jefferson street Church of Christ. Rev. E. W. Allen will officiate and the interment will be at Lindenwood.

KOENIG.

Eda Koenig, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Koenig, of Adams township, died Tuesday afternoon after a brief illness from inflammation of the bowels, at the age of fourteen months.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and at 2:30 from Stock's church. Interment at the Stock cemetery.

FLOCK.

Mrs. Ida Flock, wife of Edward Flock, died very suddenly Tuesday afternoon at her home, 113 East Lewis street, from hemorrhage of the lungs. Mrs. Flock was seated at the dinner table eating her midday meal when the attack came upon her. Physicians were hastily summoned, but they were powerless to relieve the sufferer, and she died soon after. Mrs. Flock was twenty-three years of age and was married but three months ago.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the interment will be at Lindenwood.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Boyd.—Funeral services of Robert Boyd, of Cambridge City, who died at St. Joseph's hospital Tuesday morning, were held this afternoon. The interment was at Lindenwood.

CRITICIZES GERMAN POLICY.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Minister Wu Ting Fang was greatly interested today in Germany's note to the powers asking combined action in a demand that those responsible for the troubles in China be punished as an indispensable preliminary to any peace negotiations. When seen at the legation he had before him a copy of the published text of the note.

"I can hardly believe that this step has been taken," said he, "and if it has, it is so unfortunate in its influence upon the general question, that I am greatly in hopes Germany will reconsider. The condition imposed upon China would be very hard. It would amount to determining one of the subjects of negotiation before negotiations had commenced. The Chinese envoys are invested with complete power to make terms with the powers, so that when the negotiations are opened, this question and all others will be proper subjects for consideration and final settlement by those having complete authority to deal with them."

"But to take one subject up in advance, settle it, and make its execution an indispensable preliminary to negotiations, is extremely hard."

"Suppose the situation was reversed, and this unfortunate trouble had occurred in some one of the countries now dealing with China. In the midst of excitement suspicion might have been directed against persons high in authority, even against the members of the royal family in that country. Would that country, when the question of settlement came up, for a moment, consider the surrender of those persons vaguely suspected, or would it not ask that all questions be considered by the court which was to pass upon the entire subject?"

"Who could tell to who this condition would apply? There have been intimations against those very high in Chinese affairs, but it would be very hard, yes, impossible, to say in advance, before the negotiators had considered the question, that these persons should be given up."

"Who would furnish the proof? It is an indispensable requisite, according to your recognized judicial methods that persons accused have the right to be heard, and that their evidence shall be taken into account in proving an accusation."

"Under these circumstances I am most hopeful that Germany's note is less positive than the published reports indicate. Recent indications have been that the difficulties over beginning peace negotiations had been overcome, and that very soon the negotiations would begin. For that reason I feel that it would be unfortunate to impose a condition which, being impossible, would bring the negotiations to a halt. The effect of such a step in all proceedings would be of disadvantage to all parties concerned, to the powers as well as to China. In short, its effects would be so far reaching that I am extremely anxious that Germany may see her way clear to reconsider the proposal."

BOXERS BEHAADED.

New York, Sept. 19. A dispatch to the Herald from Hong Kong says: The mandarin of the Nansen district have required the native Christians to send an account of their losses for compensation, and the names of the "rowdies" who committed the outrages.

Two ring leaders have been decapitated and their heads exhibited in the mission church at Thsi Ing. Ever increasing bodies of rowdies on the north river are plundering villages.

MAY TAKE STUMP

MUCH PRESSURE TO GET HIM TO SPEAK.

WILL SPEND LAST TWO WEEKS
IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Senator Hanna, encouraged by the reception given his speech yesterday at the Commercial McKinley club meeting, has about decided to go upon the stump during the last two weeks of the campaign. He will leave Sunday night for New York, where he will remain ten days, at the end of which time he will return to Chicago to resume personal control of the national campaign. Today several delegations, one from the Springfield (Ill.) district, one from Indiana, and another from Kansas, the latter headed by National Committeeman Mulvaney, called on Senator Hanna and asked him to make campaign speeches.

"As the constant drip of water wears away the hardest stone, you fellows may get me yet," said the senator to his visitors.

"I am becoming more and more impressed with my ability as a campaign speaker. But then I am not paid to make speeches. My salary is drawn for other work. However, I shall probably make a few speeches in Chicago and may conclude to devote considerable of my time toward the latter part of the campaign to speech-making."

Chairman Johnson and Secretary Walsh, of the democratic national committee, today characterized Senator Hanna's speech of yesterday as "humane."

"I observe," said Secretary Walsh, "that Senator Hanna asserts that there are no trusts in this country and at the same time he charges that Senator Jones is a member of the cotton bale trust."

SENATOR HANNA'S SPEECH. In the course of his speech yesterday before the Commercial McKinley club, Senator Hanna said:

"I wish I could have together on this platform William J. Bryan and Senator George F. Hoar, that each might tell his reasons for opposing expansion, or 'imperialism.' Senator Hoar would convince you that he opposes it from conscientious motives, but is on all other points a unit with the party from which he differs in that one respect, and that he is a supporter of William McKinley. With these two together I would tear the mask off of that hypocrite, William J. Bryan, (Cheer and hisses.) One stands on the firm foundation of his convictions of right and the other on the flimsy foundation of hypocrisy. Bryan has been afraid to push the silver issue because he wants to carry New York and some other eastern states. He tried imperialism, and made from five to fifty speeches a day, his audiences growing less and less every day. It is his trump and last card, and we will hold him down if our great corporations of amalgamated capital are in the interests of the manufacturer, then are not labor organizations and combinations in the interests of the workman?"

THE MINER'S FRIEND. "I was the first man in Ohio to recognize organize labor in 1871 and while that organization of bituminous coal miners existed we never had a strike. I believe in arbitration between labor and capital, and in 1897, when I stood before 7,500 men and women in Cincinnati I told them that if they would prove to me that I had ever wronged any man working for me or urged the reduction of his pay I would resign from the United States senate next day, and the offer still stands."

"I would like Mr. Bryan or any other democrat to tell me what a trust is. I believe there is not a trust in the entire United States. There is a national law and in every state there is a law against trusts. They cannot exist, and every law against trusts, national or state, has been the product of republican law makers, and the credit is due the republican party. I have no objection to the democrats opposing trusts but they have not got any patent on it."

TOUCHES ON PHILIPPINES. "Bryan tells what he would do if elected. His first act would be to haul down the American flag in the Philippines. (Cries of 'No, no,') Well, that is what he says he would do, but the American people would not let him. Then he would establish a 'stable government,' probably with Aguinaldo at the head of it. Think of it. Pull down our flag, remove our troops and leave the brave

"Judging from the past, Aguinaldo would soon shock humanity, and the nations would interfere as we did in China. Bryan talks of the Monroe doctrine and advocates a poliostrate in the Philippines. The Monroe doctrine was established for the western hemisphere, but Bryan would spread it all over the world. If that is not imperialism then tell me what it is. I am for peace, but not for peace at any price, and not while the brigand Aguinaldo is hanging in the bushes shooting down our soldiers. Bryan is opposed to a tariff as a trust creator, but the workmen know that the tariff is their protector. He shows in his very pictures what he would do if elected, and beside his picture stands as something monumental the work that McKinley has done. Bryan will stand on any platform they make for him, ride any hobby, endorse any issue. Yes, he will even abuse me for the sole purpose of being president. That is all he wants. (Cheers. 'You're all right.') Yes, I'm all right, for I talk about things I know all about, and I don't lie, either. Cast your votes in your own interests and not in the interests of Mr. Bryan. The importance of this campaign is greater than ever before known in the country, because any reversal of the policy of the government would bring about a change in commercial interests which would dwarf the awful storm at Galveston. It would mean a commercial revolution, from which this country would not soon recover."

ROOSEVELT'S TOUR. Rexburg, Idaho, Sept. 19.—Governor Roosevelt's special train left Butte, Mont., at 2 p. m., en route to Pocatello, Idaho. A stop was made at Market Lake, Idaho, at the request of Senator Shoup. Senator Carter introduced Governor Roosevelt to the crowd from the back platform, but the stop was not long enough for a speech. At Rexburg an address was made to the people at the opera house.

HOWARD DENIES THE CHARGE SAYS HE IS NOT THE MAN WHO SHOT GOEBEL.

Defense Starts Out to Prove That the Defendant was Not the Man Seen Running.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 19. In the trial today of James Howard, charged with being principal in the shooting of Governor Goebel, the defense began the introduction of evidence. The defense said proof will be introduced to show that Howard arrived in the city only thirty minutes prior to the assassination and did not go to the state house until several hours after the tragedy; that Howard was then and had been clean shaven for a year and that he was not the man seen running from the capital grounds or later standing on the steps of one of the buildings as that man according to a witness had a beard.

Howard then took the witness stand. He testified that his train was late and that he went from this train to a hotel and was there when Goebel's body was carried by.

Howard, in a general way contradicted everything of an incriminating nature told against him by James Stubblefield and other witnesses in regard to alleged remarks concerning the murder of Goebel.

RACE POSTPONED. Indianapolis, Sept. 19.—Special.—The match race between those two kings of the turf, Searchlight and Amenda, at the state fair grounds today, was postponed until tomorrow on account of rain. The two great pacers have attracted much interest.

Among the passengers on a French steamer that sailed last week for Europe was a waiter employed in a New York restaurant until it became necessary, on account of his health, for him to return home. He carried with him a draft for $5,000, which represented the amount of his savings in this country during the past three years.

According to the Sioux Indian weather prophets it's going to be a hard winter. These predictions are based on the fact that the buffalo grass shows a heavy crop of seeds, which, the Redskins declare, is a sure sign of a severe winter and deep snow.

No food product is as much manipulated and adulterated as are the spices which are so necessary an adjunct to the household. This manipulation is so generally known, that pure food laws were passed by a number of states in an endeavor to stop the practice, but without avail. Recognizing the conditions as they exist, we carry a line of

"PURE FOOD" GROUND SPICES, and guarantee them to be absolutely free from any admixture whatever. The following comprises a full list of our "PURE FOOD" spices:

Allspice, Zanzibar Capsicum, African Capsicum, Saigon Cinnamon, Cloves, Jamaica Ginger, African Ginger, Mace, Mustard, Nutmegs, Black Pepper, White Pepper.

The liability to disease is greatly lessened when the blood is in good condition, and the circulation healthy and vigorous. For then all refuse matter is promptly carried out of the system; otherwise it would rapidly accumulate—fermentation would take place, the blood become polluted and the constitution so weakened that a simple malady might result seriously.

A healthy, active circulation means good digestion and strong, healthy nerves.

As a blood purifier and tonic S. S. S. has no equal. It is the safest and best remedy for old people and children because it contains no minerals, but is made exclusively of roots and herbs.

No other remedy so thoroughly and effectually cleanses the blood of impurities. At the same time it builds up the weak and debilitated, and renovates the entire system. It cures permanently all manner of blood and skin troubles.

Mr. R. H. Kelly, of Urbana, O., writes: "I had S. S. S. on my hands and feet for five years. It would break out in little white pustules, which would form and drop off, leaving the skin red and inflamed. The doctors did me no good. I used all the medicated soaps and salves without benefit. R. S. S. cured me, and my skin is as clear and smooth as any one's."

BICYCLE ICE TRIP.

Dawson to Skagway, Alaska, by Bicycle.

E. P. Leroy, a newspaper correspondent, was the first one to make the trip successfully from Dawson to Skagway, 550 miles, over the ice on a bicycle. He was eight days on the way and encountered one of the heaviest snowstorms of the season. He comments on the universal fact that men in the Arctic climate have scurvy and stomach trouble because of poorly cooked food.

He says when he first went to Alaska he had a good stomach, but it finally gave out; and one day in his search for something that a man without an appetite could eat, he came across some packages of Grape-Nuts food. He knew of the food and its value and was willing to pay one-quarter of an ounce of gold dust ($4.00) for one package.

He says: "I can assure you the satisfaction of getting something I could eat and digest without suffering was well worth the price. As soon as it had proven to be just what I wanted, I bought the whole lot, and from that day to this, Grape-Nuts food has constituted my chief article of diet."

"I find that Grape-Nuts is quickly picked up as soon as a new lot comes to camp. There is nothing known that gives the miner and frontiersman the strength, with so little volume as Grape-Nuts food, and it is always ready for use, being perfectly cooked, and can be eaten dry or with a little cream, milk or water, hot or cold, just as a man likes. I could not have taken any food that would have carried me through my long journey on the ice so well as Grape-Nuts."

Finley Peter Dunne, author of the "Mr. Dooley" papers, has decided to make New York his permanent residence. He has resigned as managing editor of the Chicago Evening Journal.

The fact that Charles S. May, ex-Lieutenant Governor of Michigan, has announced his determination to vote the straight democratic ticket so soon after Colonel Roosevelt's speechmaking tour in Michigan is, of course, only a coincidence.

Dr. I. Zacharie, who died in London last week was a famous chiropodist who went to Washington during the civil war and offered his services to the army. They were accepted and the good he did to the soldiers suffering from long marches was publicly recognized. The doctor always made the claim that he helped to arrange the terms of peace with Jefferson Davis. Zacharie was a native of Charlestown, S. C. He died quite wealthy.

son Davis. Zacharie was a native of Charlestown, S. C. He died quite wealthy.

Henry Burkholder, on board the United States ship Brooklyn, now at Taku, China, writes to a family in Maryland that during the looting of Peking by the troops of the allied Christian nations one soldier, an American marine, secured a box of diamonds for which Admiral Seymour subsequently offered $20,000.

The increase of nearly 35 per cent. in the emigration from Germany for the last eight months over the corresponding period of last year is a fact that will doubtless be variously explained. It is undoubtedly not pleasing to the German emperor and he may be relied on to say something startling about it. Discussion of the matter can hardly enter seriously into the political campaign in this country, since such of the emigrants as have come here will not be able to vote at this election.

Chairman Hanna yesterday in his Chicago speech said: "I would like Mr. Bryan or any other democrat to tell me what a trust is. I believe there is not a trust in the United States." This leaves one in doubt whether Uncle Mark is calling for information or inflicting a bluff. In another part of his speech he wants to know what's what about the New York ice trust and the round-cotton-bale trust, in both of which he says democrats are interested. Mr. Hanna and himself should get together.

The decision of the republican campaign managers to make a bonfire out of the 200,000 printed copies of the great imperialistic speech on the Philippines by Senator Beveridge, which President McKinley and his followers liked so much at the time it was delivered seems to show that at this stage of the campaign matters need a little warming up. The fact that the copies were all neatly wrapped separately ready for mailing will make the blaze all the bigger. Although the speech was printed for the republican managers the work is paid for by the government and not out of Mr. Hanna's campaign fund.

The article in the Indianapolis Journal saying that Charles Eckhart, prohibition candidate for governor, has withdrawn from the race, has caused so much comment in all parts of the state that Mr. Eckhart has written for the next issue of the prohibition state organ a statement, saying: "So long as there is a saloon in the land and a brewery and distillery that will debauch our manhood and outrage our womanhood, and make it possible that our boys and girls shall not be brought up under proper influences; so long as there is a party in existence that will uphold the canteen and saloon; so long as there is a paper in the field that will cater to the whisky element and so long as I have a drop of blood in my veins and any money I shall fight the liquor traffic and never cease to give my vote and voice to abolish it."

The viciousness with which Senator Hanna attacked Mr. Bryan in a speech delivered Tuesday in Chicago by the republican chairman seems to argue that something has jarred the usually amiable Ohio politician. He called the democratic presidential candidate a hypocrite and wished he could have Senator Hoar on the same platform with Bryan to unmask the terrible man from Nebraska. It might be more to the point to bring forward the anti-imperialist speeches delivered in the senate by Mr. Hoar, but that at present is neither here nor there. Mr. Hanna is evidently not getting good news either from home or elsewhere, and his temper suffers acutely from the stress of conviction that all is not going well. The campaign fund does not swell with the readiness that proves the big business interests of the country view with panty alarm the possibility of democratic success, and that is as serious a matter itself as the fact that the "jingling of the guinea" is low in the land.

The coldest temperature experienced by Sir George Newnes' expedition to the south pole was 52 degrees below zero and occurred in August. The party discovered near Robertson Bay mountains exceeding 12,000 feet in height, and penetrated farther to the south (72 degrees 50 minutes) than any previous expedition.

IS GRAND CHIEF

OF INDIANA KNIGHTS OF THE

F. H. HILGEMANN IS HONORED

GRAND LODGE MEETING HELD
IN INDIANA.

HE DIED AS WAS FORETOLD

INDIANA MAN WARNED OF
DEATH BY ANGEL VISIT.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 19.—The tenth annual session of the grand lodge, Knights of the Golden Eagle, and of the Ladies of the Golden Eagle met in this city yesterday, the knights having 100 past chiefs and 150 other members present. Eighty-nine delegates attended the women's meeting. The knights closed their meeting last night with the selection of Richmond as the next meeting place and the election of the following officers: Grand chief, F. H. Hilgeman, Fort Wayne; vice chief, C. G. Childers, Anderson; sir herald, John W. Carey, Muncie; high priest, E. S. Dickson, Windsor; first guardman, Charles Barton; second guardman, Ervin E. Bowman, Winchester; representative to supreme council, William Rowland, Anderson; trustees, Joseph Patchell, Union City, and Portese Knight, Marion; keeper of exchequer, J. B. Fortenbaugh, Barton; grand master of records, Ross Boon, Muncie.

East Supreme Chief E. V. Moore, of Sidney, Ohio, and Supreme Vice Chief S. M. Earlard, of Union City, were present. Reports showed that there are 2,068 members in the state. During the past year new castles have been established at Kokomo and Richmond.

The ladies will not complete their work until this afternoon. Their reports showed over $1,000 on hand, and new lodges at Kokomo and Richmond. The degree of grand templar was conferred on thirty-four candidates yesterday, while the knights had more than fifty. The following officers were elected last evening: Sitting past grand, Minnie MacDonald, Muncie; grand templar, Mrs. Bennett, wife of Dr. Bennett, of Marion; vice templar, Phoebe Wickert, Albany; high priestess, Sarah Welch, Harrisville; marshal, Sadie Wright, Union City; guardian of records, India Harris, Richmond; guardian of exchequer, Alice Shrieker, Union City; guardian of inner portal, Lydia Bostick, Anderson; guardian of outer portal, Mattie Baldson, Richmond; guardian of music, Eva Morton, Barton; trustee, Florence Jackson, Anderson.

DIED AS FORETOLD.

Frankfort, Ind., Sept. 19.—Henry Classmeyer, sr., is dead at his home in this city of neuralgia of the heart. He was 65 years old and was born in Germany. There is a remarkable chain of circumstances connected with his death, inasmuch as he had been warned by a dream or vision that the hour was near at hand. The facts are detailed by his family.

A few days prior to his death his family noticed that he appeared considerably worried about something of which he was reluctant to speak. After much persuasion, however, he related to them a dream which he said he had a night or two previous. While he was asleep a form resembling that of an angel, beautiful and in white raiment, appeared to him and announced that he had but a short time to live.

THEY'LL BURN MORTGAGE.

Penn. Ind., Sept. 19.—The congregation of the First M. E. church will hold a jubilee Thursday and Friday to celebrate the lifting of the church indebtedness, at which time the mortgage will be burned. W. W.

Lockwood, president of the board of directors, will preside, and Rev. A. S. Wooten, who bought the church lot; Rev. E. L. Seamons, who built the church, and Rev. E. E. Nott, who built the parsonage, will take active part. Dr. M. S. Marble, presiding elder, will be one of the speakers. The original church was founded in 1831, and the old brick church, for which the present structure was substituted, was built in 1852. Nine years ago work was begun on the present church building, with an available fund of $10,000. When completed there remained an indebtedness of $25,000, to lift which the congregation has worked systematically and successfully. Rev. Percy Powell in pastor, and has been untiring in his efforts, but much credit is due to Rev. E. L. Seamons, now of Logansport.

A CROOK CONVICTED.

Marion, Ind., Sept. 19.—"Pod" Barnes, alias "Huntington Whitey," the crook, was convicted in the Grant circuit court yesterday afternoon of assault and battery with intent to murder Chief of Police White, the first week of last June, and he was committed under the indeterminate sentence act. Chief White had arrested Barnes on suspicion. The officer had hardly started with his prisoner to the jail when the latter turned on him, and with a pistol he took from his clothes, almost succeeded in killing White. It was only by the officer's supreme strength that he saved his life.

THE COMPANY BLUFFED.

Elkhart, Ind., Sept. 19.—Frank Reno, foreman of a Big Four construction gang, was arrested for fighting on one of the company's trains. Trainmaster Courtwright representing the prosecution. The gang thereupon struck because of his arrest and the prosecution was abandoned.

LOCKJAW AND TYPHOID.

North Manchester, Ind., Sept. 19.—The thirteen-year-old daughter of Joseph Ott, near this city, some weeks ago was stricken with typhoid fever. Last Saturday lockjaw added its complications and there is little hope of recovery.

REFORM LAW RESPONSIBLE.

Goshen, Ind., Sept. 19.—The tax levy of Elkhart county for the years 1890-1900 averages thirty-nine cents and it is lower than during any two years for the past fourteen years. It provides for the payment of a floating indebtedness of $40,000 and the payment of $20,000 in bonds. The credit for this low rate is given largely to the county reform law.

MUTILATED BY A HOG.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 19.—Edgar Seybold, nine years old, was attacked by a hog at the home of his aunt, near La Paz, and had his arm broken in two places.

OFFICERS WILL PAY DUTY.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 19.—The officers of the hospital ship Solace will pay duty on the goods they brought over from China after all, but they will make their payments in the shape of fines equal to the customs duties. Captain Winslow, in behalf of his subordinates, has made this agreement with the revenue officers who followed the vessel to the Mare Island navy yard. The goods consist of 135 packages of silks, China wares and other articles. The Solace brought over twenty Chinese without certificates, who will not be permitted to land.

CINCINNATI'S FESTIVAL.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 19.—The Cincinnati fall festival opened today with a gorgeous street parade in which all local organizations and industries were represented. At Music hall, Governor Nash, Senator Foraker, Congressmen Bromwell and Shattuck, Mayor Fleischmann and others delivered addresses.

PRODDING THE PORTE.

Constantinople, Sept. 19.—Lloyd Griscom, United States charge d'affaires, has made verbal representations to the porte demanding the release of an Armenian who, it is claimed, is a naturalized American citizen and who was arrested upon the charge of belonging to the Armenian revolutionary committee. Investigation has been ordered and if the prisoner is found to be an American citizen he will be released.

MARCUS DALY BETTER.

New York, Sept. 19.—It was said at the Netherlands hotel today that Marcus Daly, who has been ill at that place for some days, was considerably improved.

Efforts are being made to abolish what is called "the free zone," a strip of territory 80 miles wide on the American border, into which foreign goods are admitted at much less than the usual duty.

FOR REVISION OF THE CREED

FORT WAYNE PRESBYTERY
FAVORS A CHANGE.

Rev. Dr. Gwynne, of Elkhart, Is Elected Moderator for Six Months—Other Business.

The Fort Wayne Presbytery, which met at Lagrange on Monday and Tuesday, voted for a revision of the Westminster Confession of Faith after a prolonged session, during which exhaustive arguments, pro and con, were presented. The stated clerk of the meeting was instructed to prepare a communication to the committee appointed by the general assembly, in which the attitude of the Fort Wayne Presbytery will be set forth. This committee, of which ex-President Harrison is a member, will report to the general assembly held next May at Philadelphia, and if a majority of Presbyteries are in favor of the revision the required changes will be made.

Rev. Dr. Gwynne, of Elkhart, was elected moderator of the Presbytery and delegates were appointed to the meeting of the Northern Indiana synod to be held at Crawfordsville, of which Rev. Dr. D. W. Moffat, Rev. Dr. J. L. Leeper and Rev. Dr. J. A. P. McGaw, and James English, all of this city, are members. Dr. McGaw read a report on foreign missions, which was ordered printed for distribution among the churches of the district. The sessions adjourned to meet on October 1 in Lagrange, at which time Rev. Warren will be ordained and installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church in that town.

A rumor recently got abroad among the peasantry on the Irish seaboard that the French were about to land troops in Ireland. It is said that letters of warning reached the Irish harvestmen in Lancashire and spread a panic among them. Over 200, it is asserted, left one district in a single night and that altogether more than 1,000 laborers disappeared without warning.

A queer English law, called the "tripping act of 1751," provides that an inkeeper cannot recover for debts for liquor amounting to more than $5. The son of an eminent English throat specialist lately ran up a bill of $250 at an English public house and refused payment upon the validity of this act. As the statute was still on the books the judge was obliged to acknowledge its force.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more grain-o you give the children the more healthy they will be. It is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about 1/2 as much. All grocers sell it. Use and see.

TO HEAR A GIFTED SPEAKER

TWO ADDRESSES BY WILLIS BROWN, OF CHICAGO.

Willis Brown, of Chicago, president of the Young People's Temperance Federation of America, is to deliver two addresses in Fort Wayne this week under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Mr. Brown's mission in this city is to lead the crusade against the cigarette.

Friday evening he will speak at the Plymouth Congregational church and on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock he will address a mass meeting at the Baptist tabernacle. Mr. Brown comes with the most earnest endorsements of both pulpit and press, and his talks are intensely practical, but enlivened by a wealth of humorous illustrations that bring out the forceful points of his theme. He is said to be a most engaging speaker.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Judge Edward O'Rourke and A. E. Thomas talked to a large audience at Eel River Center school house Tuesday evening. W. A. Johnson presided and a quartet from Chubbuck sang campaign songs to entertain the audience before and between the speeches. The quartet was composed of Byron Madden, Fred Schilling, George Kiehl and Charles Harter and is managed by F. M. Richards. Organ and violin duets were rendered by Miss Mabel Stamets and Miss Deardorff.

The Fort Wayne Democratic club held an interesting meeting in the circuit court room last evening. H. C. Berghoff, W. H. Shambaugh and D. L. Harding made short addresses and plans for the campaign were discussed. Mr. Shambaugh and F. E. Purcell were elected delegates to the National Association of Democratic clubs, which meets in Indianapolis October 3.

Capt. H. W. Dickman has called a meeting of the Bryan's Soldiers' club, which will be held in the assembly room of the new court house this evening.

The republicans are arranging to organize rough rider clubs in each of the city wards. Wednesday evening the Seventh will organize at Anderson hall; Friday evening the Tenth ward will organize at the corner of Oliver and East Creighton avenue, and the Eighth and Ninth wards will organize Friday evening.

C. E. Everett will address the Soldiers' Sons' and Citizens Republican club next Monday evening.

The Tippecanoe Marching club will meet this evening and select material for uniforms.

Colonel Roosevelt will deliver an address at Princess rink on the afternoon and evening of October 10.

Hon. John L. Griffiths, the foremost republican orator in Indiana, will speak for the republicans of Fort Wayne in the hall at republican headquarters Friday evening, Sept. 28. Mr. Griffiths is always sure of a good audience in Fort Wayne, for his oratory, if not his views, is admired by all who have ever heard him.

Hon. John P. Irish, gold democrat, campaigning under auspices of the republican national committee, will speak at the Masonic Temple next Saturday evening, the meeting to be in charge of local gold democrats. Mr. Irish is a captivating orator and has the happy faculty of being able to employ his talents brilliantly for whatever political party he is advocating.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE MEETS.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 19.—The sixth annual convention of the national municipal league opened this afternoon with about 100 delegates present. In the absence of President James C. Carter of New York, First Vice President Charles Richardson, of Philadelphia, presided. This convention is the starting point of active work in the adoption of the so-called municipal program adopted at the Columbus convention last year. The program embraces three branches of activity: enlarging the power of cities by providing so far as possible for home rule; enforcing carefully devised restrictions against the abuses of municipal power, and regulating the granting of franchises. Addresses of welcome were responded to by Chas. J. Bonaparte of Baltimore, chairman of the executive committee, Secretary Clinton Rogers Woodruff then read a paper on "A Year's Municipal Development." The report of the treasurer, General Burroughs, of Philadelphia, was next submitted.

HUBLER'S UNION.

The wind blew most of the apples off last week which will make winter apples scarce.

The rally day exercises Sunday evening was a grand success and all seemed to enjoy themselves. We were glad to have the county board with us. We had 25 children dressed in eight different kinds of grain and while we sang the song "Bringing in the Sheaves" the children, in company with their teachers, marched into the church. The speakers were as follows: Address of welcome, J. C. F. McMaken, superintendent; E. A. K. Hackett, E. F. Yarnelle, A. D. Craig, S. S. Hall, L. Binkley. Mr. E. F. Yarnelle sang two solos, while Miss Allie DeVillbiss played the organ. The house was crowded and some had to stand up. An offering was taken for the American Sunday School Union which amounted to $4.75. While the exercises were in progress word came to our superintendent, Mr. McMaken, that his aunt, Mrs. Winter Bennett, was dead, and he and family attended the funeral Monday.

The attendance at Sunday school was very good last Sunday and everybody seemed interested.

John Hubler expects to go to California in a short time for his health.

Our superintendent will take part in the Sunday school convention in Jackson township Saturday evening and Sunday.

Rev. Hendricks will preach at Hubler's Union next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Come and hear him. Sunday school immediately after.

Corn cutting is about completed in our vicinity.

Rev. Murray will preach at New Bethel next Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Trevey, of Fort Wayne, visited Mr. and Mrs. McMaken last week.

The schools of Washington township opened Monday morning.

Miss Allie DeVillbiss has taken a school in Jackson township.

Frank Hubler, of Fort Wayne, was a visitor at John Hubler's Sunday and assisted in the rally day exercises at the chapel.

Ed Poinsett is on the sick list.

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP AFTER A RAILROAD.

Springfield township is in earnest in its desire to have the Fort Wayne and Butler railroad, and at a special election held in the township on Tuesday voted to give a subsidy of $10,000 for its construction, on condition that the line pass within one-quarter of a mile of the village of Maysville, and that depot facilities be established at that town.

The project has been very generally favored by the residents of Springfield township, and many of them have worked earnestly in its behalf. The result is shown in the substantial majority by which the aid was voted, there being 227 for the improvement, while but 159 citizens of the township voted "No."

There is general rejoicing, particularly among the people of Maysville, over the result, and the outcome is of course very gratifying to the Fort Wayne gentlemen who are laboring to secure the road. They regard the prospects as exceedingly bright, and the line will ultimately take the place of the present Eel River branch of the Wabash.

On October 10 the people of Cedar Creek township are also to vote on the proposition to give the line a subsidy of $10,000, and as the route finally selected will depend considerably on the aid given by the citizens, the result in Springfield township is likely to influence a similar decision in Cedar Creek.

RIOT IN SAN JUAN.

San Juan de Porto Rico, Sept. 19.—The plant of El Diario, the organ of the federal party, was completely destroyed by a mob last night. The type and presses were smashed. The supposed cause for the disturbances were articles attacking Mayor Egozcue, who is a republican. No arrests were made. Munoz Rivera, the editor of the paper, is preparing a protest to Governor Allen on the ground that no protection was afforded by the authorities. The protest will be sent to Washington.

BEHIND THE BARS.

Tony Miller was arrested this afternoon by Officer John Pageler, on the charge of burglary. Some time Tuesday evening the offices of the Potlitzer Fruit company on Harrison street were broken into and a money drawer, containing about $7, was rifled. Miller was suspected, having been around the place considerably lately, and immediately after his arrest broke down and confessed to having taken the money. He was locked up to await a hearing.

Rev. Otto Erbe, of Omaha, Neb., is in the city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Herber, and will leave Friday morning for Chicago and Milwaukee.

SHE WAS A PHANTOM OF DELIGHT.

She was a phantom of delight When first she gleamed on my sight; A lovely apparition, sent to me by angels, to delight my sight.

Her eyes as stars of twilight fair, Like twilight's, too, her dusky hair; But all things else about her drawn From Maytime and the cheerful dawn;

A dancing shape and image of delight To haunt, to startle, and to joy.

I saw her upon nearer view, A spirit, yet a woman too, Her household and her field and free And steps of virgin liberty;

A countenance in which did meet Sweet secrets, promised as a secret; A smile that spoke a light that glowed For human nature's daily food;

For transient sorrows, simple woes, Praise, blame, love, kisses, tears and smiles.

And now I see with eyes serene The very pulse of the machine, A being breathing thoughtful breath, A traveler between life and death;

The reason firm, the temperance will, Endurance, foresight, strength and skill; A perfect woman, fully rounded, To win, to comfort and command;

THE LLAMA'S CURSE

A Story of Tibetan Magic.

The waiter brought us drink and the change out of Tom Martin's suit sovereign. I pushed the latter over toward him with my left hand, and with the right raised the water bottle to dilute my whisky.

"Your change, Tom," said I.

"Yes, of course," said Tom, who was absorbed in the story he was telling me. He put out his hand as if to pick the money up, but seemed to remember something, for he drew his hand back suddenly.

"Good heaven!" said he, "and I had forgotten that."

He took out his handkerchief, wrapped it around the forefinger of his right hand and then, with the forefinger so covered, gently scraped the money toward him, piece by piece, and earnestly looked at each coin.

"You can believe it or not, just as you like," said Tom, "but I tell you, first, that piece of money is coming along this way some day. I have seen it once and I left it on the table. You don't catch me touching any coin while I am certain that one is in circulation. But let me conclude what I was telling you."

"Brga is one of the most peculiar places you could think of, and one of our first duties was to present ourselves to the grand lama. We had to get a palanquin, for it was only meet that Europeans of our importance should go in state, and it was while en route that we suddenly came to the praying mill. This was a sort of 'roundabout,' with huge, rounded posts sticking out at the side, which every Buddhist passing was supposed to take hold of and push the mill round at least once."

"What caused Phil to do what he did then I don't know, but something seemed to impel him to get out of the palanquin, make a run over to the mill, catch hold of one of the wooden posts and commence to push it around at its topmost pace. The square where the mill was erected was pretty well filled with people, and when some of these saw what had been done they came rushing toward us, shouting and gesturing. Phil had undoubtedly committed a sacrilege, and I was fearful for his safety. These fanatical Mongolians, once their religion is assailed in any shape or form, would certainly have no mercy upon the assailant."

"Phil came hurriedly back to me, jumped into the palanquin and ordered the bearers to get on. But they were struck dumb with terror. The mob came for us, smashed in the doors of the palanquin, dragged us out, and for two minutes there was the liveliest fight on record going on. We got the worst of it, and, bruised, bleeding and insensible, were carried off to prison."

"We were taken before the grand lama, and then and there he ordered us to be sent across the Siberian frontier by the utmost dispatch. The next day we were hurried along under an escort of soldiers, and it was not long before we arrived at the frontier, the town of Mianmushin, which really is the Mongolian portion of Kiakta. We were taken along to the yellow posts which marked the actual frontier, and there the soldiers of the lama stopped. We were removed from the palanquin in which we had been carried and were commanded to sit down a few yards from the posts. Not 20 feet away were the black and white posts of the Russians, and it was indeed something to gladden our eyes to see the brown coat and the astrakhan fox of the Russian Cossack who stood there on sentry."

"Our guards spread themselves out, then these came forward a Buddhist priest, who began to talk to us in a jargon which, of course, we could not understand. He finished at length and produced from his robe a wire on which were threaded some hundreds of brass 'cush,' which the Chinese always carry. He took two of the 'cush' off the wire and laid them in front of us on the ground."

"Then the priest began waving his arms about, and the Mongolians took out their hand prayer mills and began turning them for all they were worth. The voice of the priest then rose on the air. He said three or four words and spat deliberately at each of the coins which had been put on the ground before us."

"That was all. The priest departed, the soldier escorted us to the posts, the Russian sentry presented his rifle and we presented our passports. We passed over and breathed the comparatively free air of Russia. Our first duty when we were in Kiakta was to go straight to the governor and lay our complaint before him. He was agitated when he heard of the carousing at the frontier, and told us that the Buddhist priest had put into circulation 100 coins which had received the sun-gold course, and that these coins would circulate throughout the world, harm to everybody except the two they were destined for. The instant possession of either of these by the person cursed would mean immediate destruction.

"Nor was this all, the coins might not come to us as brass 'cush,' they might come to us as a kopeck piece, or as a ruble, as marks or pfennigs, as francs or centimes, as anything, wherever it might be. We should never know when they were coming; we should take them in the ordinary way; we should handle them, but only for one moment, the next moment we should be dead."

One day Tom sent for me, and it was to tell me that he was going to be married. This struck me as something peculiar, for I had thought Tom Morton was one of the last men likely to fall in love. The wedding day came off, everybody was pleased, and Tom and his bride went away to the south of France. A few more weeks rolled by and Tom returned. There was to be a reception at their London house, and the invitation which was sent me was one which I could not well refuse.

In the evening I had the opportunity of a chat with Tom. We had gone out on the balcony, which overlooked the garden, and there I purposely made reference to the superstition which he had for the lama's coin.

"Perhaps," said I, "now that you have gone unscathed all these years, you are beginning to lose faith in the potency of that prophecy?"

"Well, to tell you the truth," said Tom, "I am getting a little slacker about it, and when one begins to reason superstitious on my subject is likely to get knocked out. It has struck me that, after all, it may be but mere foolery."

We entered the room once more, but I was tired for a smoke, and, making some excuse, I slipped away to the smoking room. I had been sitting there about five minutes when Tom Morton came in.

"What do you think?" he said. "My wife has got this Mongolian story into her head so much that she is perfectly ridiculous. She has been telling everybody about it, and, of course, they are all laughing, and the worst of it all is that she is laughing with them at me. But come, come, old fellow. I want to show you something."

I rose, drew my cigarette and away I followed him. We went along the corridor to the drawing room, which was crowded, and even as we entered I heard Mrs. Morton's voice.

"I really do believe it will be such fun," she was saying. "Here comes Tom, and now we will try. A coin, if you please, from each of you. Let me see—how many are there here?—20. Good! Then I want 26 coins. Now, Tom?" she said, "take off that wretched glove and let us demonstrate that you can touch money with your unglazed hand."

Tom was pale, and I saw his brow shining with perspiration. He muttered something, but what it was was lost in the laughter and banter which went around the room. With a quick, impulsive movement, he drew off his right glove.

"Well," he said, and I saw his lips wreathed into a hard, unwhimsical smile. "I will take the coins just to show you that I am not afraid."

Then, one by one, his wife counted out the coins into his hand. Twenty were already there, when, unable to control the impulse which came over me, I started up and cried: "Drop it, Tom! Why challenge such a thing as that?"

He looked at me, and I saw how pale and how stern was his face. The said nothing to me, but merely turned to his wife with the whisper, "Go on."

"Twenty-seven," I cried, "what is that, there are only 26 people here, there is a mistake. But I could get no further. Tom had staggered back, his body shaken in size. He fell to the floor. A deathlike silence fell over the assemblage. I strode over to my friend's prostrate form."

Tom was dead and cold, and in his right hand there were 27 coins. I looked at the top one; it was a German piece, value 20 marks. I took it to the light and gazed upon it. Across the profile of Emperor William I I saw a mark which described a true square, and then I knew that the lama's curse at length had had effect.—Penny Pictorial Magazine.

WHEN DOGS ARE SICK.

The Way to Give Medicine to These Highly Sensitive Patients.

In all treatment of a sick dog remember you are dealing with a highly sensitive and nervous patient. The very gentle, avoid roughness or anything likely to alarm him. In giving him any liquid medicine do not open his mouth, but, placing him between your knees, with his face looking in the same direction as your own, gently raise his jaw and, pulling his lips away from his teeth on one side of his mouth, to form a cup or funnel, very slowly pour from bottle or spoon the quantity he is to have into it.

Keep his head raised for a minute or two and if he does not swallow the dose insert a spoon between his front teeth. This will have the effect of drawing off his attention from the medicine and he will usually swallow at once. If the dose is a pill, hold or anything solid, hold his head the same way as before mentioned, but with the left hand under lower jaw, press firmly on each side with thumb and finger at the junction of upper and lower jaws.

This will usually cause him to open his mouth, when the dose should be put into the mouth as far back as possible over the tongue for he will spit it out and close the jaws somewhat sharply, and in most cases the dose is done. If any trouble arises with the action of his front paws this may be got over by wrapping him round with a shawl or coarse apron.

When once you have got into the way of it, you will be surprised how simple it is. I am quite sure a practiced owner or kennelman would dose a dozen dogs while a novice was making a fumble over one.—"All About Dogs," by Charles Henry Lane.

THE COLLAR BUTTON.

Its Blessings Realized Only by Those Who Have Lived Without It.

"In looking over a trunk full of old trunk the other day," said the elderly man, "I came across a lot of old shirts with the buttons sewed on, and as I looked at them I realized anew what the collar button means to humanity. There have been greater inventions, surely, but not many that have conferred a more unmitigated blessing on mankind."

"The younger person of today, accustomed to the collar button always, cannot realize what it was to be without it. He can never know what it was to have shirts with the buttons sewed on—or not, as the case might be. Not so very many years ago, when the collar button was yet comparatively new, before persons had come to keep as everybody commonly does now, a lot of buttons on hand, the man who had lost his collar button thought himself entitled to the sympathy of his fellows, but wrong as he might be by that has he could not even guess at the anguish that in the sewed on button days filled the heart of the man who, when he came to put on his last clean shirt, found that key button, the one on the collar band, most important one of all, gone entirely or only just hanging by a thread!"

"I knew a man once who had this happen to him and didn't swear. That was the only great thing he ever did, but I have always thought that that alone was enough to stamp him as a most extraordinary man."—New York Sun.

Disturbed the Bishop.

"I remember once driving across the country with Bishop . . .," writes Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady of "A Missionary in the Great West" in the Ladies' Home Journal, "while discussing the nature of the soul. That is, the bishop was discussing. I was only prompting by a question now and then. We were on the rear seat of a wagon, with the driver on the front seat. It was a very dark night. In the middle of the bishop's exposition the wagon took a wild plunge, there was a crash, and over we went into the muddy ditch."

"I hear your garden, gente," said the driver, who had retained control of the horses as we scrambled to our feet. "I was so interested in hearing the man discussing my immortal soul, which I hardly ever knowed that I had one before, that I clean forgot where we was and drove gas plump into the ditch."

Courtesy That Teach Gardening.

School gardens were established in Belgium many years ago, and it is said that to them is due the prosperity of the great population, the larger portion being engaged in truck raising. After the introduction of agriculture into the public schools of France, by a law passed in 1885 school gardens increased in that country. Annual appropriations have been devoted to an extension of the system in Switzerland since 1885.

HER "SUSPICION CURE."

It Made Life One Lingering Honey-moon For Mrs. Jones' Adviser.

"I would be quite happy if my husband would not spend so much of his time at his club," said Mrs. Jones, with a sigh.

"Why don't you try the suspicion cure?" said her intimate friend.

"What in the name of Susan B. Anthony is the suspicion cure?" asked Mrs. Jones in amazement.

THROWS OUT TOLEDO GAMES

DAYTON AND FORT WAYNE ARE ALONE OVER .000.

NEW CASTLE FINISHED LAST

AMERICAN LEAGUE SEASON ENDS—LEAGUE SCORES.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—President C. B. Powers of the Interstate league, made the following statement:

"Dayton wins the pennant with a percentage of .672, just 51 points higher than the mark reached last year by New Castle. By losing Sunday, New Castle, last year's winner, dropped into last place, Marion jumping to seventh place by winning two games from Anderson. The second game between Toledo and New Castle yesterday has been thrown out as the first game completed the number scheduled for the season between those two clubs. The second forfeit recorded against Toledo in favor of Marion last Friday will also be thrown out, as the clubs completed their full quota, and for the same reason the games on last Thursday and Friday between New Castle and Anderson, resulting in a victory and a defeat for each club, will not be counted. For the entire season 545 games are counted, just 12 less than the total number scheduled. The official standing at the finish is:

Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Dayton	90	44	.672
Fort Wayne	94	54	.609
Toledo	81	50	.570
Wheeling	77	58	.570
Mansfield	67	68	.494

AMERICAN SEASON ENDS.

The American league season ended yesterday after one of the most successful years of base ball in the history of the organization, which was formerly the Western league. Until the last month of the season nearly every team had a chance to win the pennant, but Comiskey's new Chicago team best stood the pace and landed the pennant with Milwaukee in second place. The former champions Indianapolis, held the lead during the greater part of the season and it did appear at one time that the Hoosiers would never be headed, but the team was lucky indeed to finish third. Detroit played phenomenal ball the last half of the season and ended in fourth place only two games behind Indianapolis.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Dan Downey will manage the Mansfield team next season. It is said the Haymakers will play baseball at home hereafter.

Muggsy McGraw got back into the game yesterday with his bat and made four hits. He scored three runs and assisted in retiring base runners four times.

The showing of the New Castle team in the Interstate league this season was ignominious. Winners of the pennant in 1899 the team landed at the tail end in 1900. And still the Quaker town talks of having professional ball next season. It is an even wager that the town will not be in the Interstate again at least.

Beyond question the Daytons have experienced the most successful year in the history of the Interstate. The losses of past seasons were made up, and, despite reports, the Daytons will be among the leading clubs in the league next year. President Youngman may dispose of his interest in the team. It has been his desire to retire for some time.

Tim Flood's record in the American league this season was not as fine as one as his friends in Fort Wayne had hoped for. He played in 102 games and made 63 runs, 97 hits, nine sacrifices and stole 23 bases. His batting average was .247. In the field he made 53 errors and had a fielding average of .912. Sbay's batting average was only .108 and in the field he did no better than Flood.

MASONRY'S HIGHEST HONORS

CONFERRED ON WILLIAM GEAKE

AT BOSTON.

Fort Wayne Man Is Crowned Active Member of the Supreme Council of America.

William Geake, of this city, who has been prominent in Indiana Masonic circles for many years, was signally honored at Boston on Tuesday when the supreme council of the thirty-third and last Masonic degree of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite crowned him an active member of that body. It is the highest honor in Masonry, for while there are many thirty-third degree Masons who are honorary members of the tribunals, only sixty-six are admitted as active members.

Mr. Geake was chosen to succeed the late illustrious General Nicholas R. Luckie, of Indianapolis. The appointment is for life, and this highest tribunal of Scottish Rite controls absolutely the northern Masonic jurisdiction of America. There is no appeal from its decisions. There are three active members from each state, and Mr. Geake is the first Indiana selected who was not a resident of Indianapolis. The other Indiana representatives are John Caven and Joseph W. Smith, the latter being deputy for the state of Indiana. The selection of Mr. Geake as a member of the tribunal of sixty-six is not alone an honor to one who has been prominent in Masonic circles for many years and has been grand master of Indiana, but it is a distinct compliment to Fort Wayne as well, not alone from his Masonic brethren, but from countless other friends as well.

MAPLE GROVE ITEMS.

E. Pfeiffer returned from DeKalb county, where he went on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. James Romy and little daughter, Irene, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kroemer and children were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Munn, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Mary Rudisill was the guest of Miss Katie Wagner on Sunday.

We are glad to see our scholars in their places Sunday at Sunday school. We will soon enter upon a new quarter.

Henry Wegman went to Arcola Sunday. Some of his friends are anxious to hear some good reports from him and why he goes so often. Miss Hazel Pfeiffer spent a week with her aunt, Mrs. George Houser.

The committee appointed to purchase lamps and chairs did their part in securing them. The school is very thankful for them. Mrs. Munn, chairman, Miss Mary Hemler, Miss Clara Henschel, Miss Lizzie Rudisill were the committee.

Miss Menlie Hemler has returned home after spending a week in town. Our evening services which we expect to hold will be postponed until the first of October. Rev. Zartman and Mr. S. S. Hall, jr., missionary, will conduct the services.

Miss Lucile Pfeiffer returned home after visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Munn.

Fourteen from our school attended at Joe M. E. social. They all reported a pleasant time. Squire Ashley did his part to have everyone enjoy the evening.

Miss Zolke McLain was a visitor at our Sunday school. Also the guest of Mrs. Jacob Rudisill Sunday.

LONG DRAWN OUT

FIFTEEN HEATS AND ONLY TWO RACES DECIDED.

IONE AND CHARLEY HEER WON

ONE DEAD HEAT AND ANOTHER CALLED NO HEAT.

LORD DERBY FAILED TO WIN

GREAT EVENTS ON THE PROGRAM TODAY—NOTES.

The weather was much warmer yesterday, although it was still too chilly to make possible sensational time. The track, too, is quite cuppy and the management is now satisfied that there will be no records broken this week, although the races as far as close contests go are the best ever seen in Indiana.

Fifteen heats were decided yesterday and yet only two of four races on the program were finished. The feature of the day was the 2:09 trot, in which Lord Derby was a favorite at the odds of 10 to 7. He had traveled three miles at an average of 2:07½ in the grand circuit and it was not believed that the field in yesterday's race could beat him. The race was a bruising contest of six heats and resulted in a victory for Charley Herr. Lord Derby did not like the footing and broke in each heat, but when on a trot did not show the phenomenal speed of former races. Lord Derby and Charley Herr each broke in the first heat and Gayton won in the slow time of 2:14. Neereta second. In the second heat Charley Herr and Neereta forced Gayton to travel in 2:09¾. Then McHenry laid Gayton up and Lord Derby and Charley Herr fought out the third heat, the Village farm gelding brunking in the stretch and allowing the Kentucky horse to win in 2:09¾. The fourth was a dead heat between Gayton and Charley Herr in 2:13, and then Kelley won the fifth and sixth because Gayton broke each time in the stretch.

The 2:16 pace was an eight-heat race which was finally won by Ione the favorite. Alice J won the first heat in impressive style in 2:09¾. She showed up lame for the second heat and was drawn. Jessie L won the second and third heats. Ione the fourth. Saul the fifth, and Ione the sixth. The judges were not pleased with the way Driver Honey handled Saul in the sixth heat and fined him $100. In the sixth heat Saul broke in the stretch and the judges believed that he had not been driven out. All bets were declared off and the heat was declared "no heat." Honey was taken down and John Payne put behind Saul for the eighth heat. Saul was done for, however, and made a long break coming home, Ione and Jessie L away in front in the dark. A great field of horses came to the post for the 2:12 trot. Tudor Chimes, the Village farm entry, was a favorite at $40 to $60 for the field, but every horse had a following in the pools when the horses were sold out. Cornelia Belle won the only heat trotted in a close finish with Silver Wilkes. Time, 2:13¼. The race went over until today. Summaries:

THURSDAY'S EVENTS.

The entries in the races to be started tomorrow are as follows: 2:30 pace, purse, $800—Theresa

Wilkes, Slumber, Jay B, Black Kid, Tommy Mac, Lady Allright, Orin B, Chase, Private, Bud Meyer, Sophia, Dandy, Hipless, Joe Hal or Ned Mc-dium, Jean C, Laura McChord, Fred S, Wedgewood.

2:05 pace, purse, $1,000—Edith W, Red Seal, Indiana, Bonnie Direct, Harry O, Eyolet, Fannie Dillard, Agitato, Riley B, William Mc, Giles Noyes, The Maid.

It is probable that all of today's events will not be finished and the racing tomorrow will be as good as any day of the meeting.

NOTES.

The Abbott and Tommy Britton are at the track but are not entered. The association has no class for them.

Chas. S. Rannels, a former chairman of the Illinois republican state committee, owns Cornelia Belle and he is here to see her race.

Mabel C., a chestnut mare by Rigmore, dam by Alcide 5319, will start to beat 2:35 tomorrow. She is owned by Dr. J. A. Cleverger, of Garrett, Ind.

The judges of the races are Angus McPherson of this city, Mr. Adams, of Vicksburg, Mich., and Charles Lindeman, of Lima, Ohio. O. B. Wiley and T. G. Hale are timers. Harry O. will be in against a great field of fast ones tomorrow and if he can get a piece of the money against William Mc, Indiana, Giles Noyes, The Maid and Fannie Dillard, the Atlantic King gelding will be a wonder indeed.

Robert Newton, the starter, has a wonderfully strong voice which can be heard plainly for rods. He has an even temper and complete control of the drivers. Altogether Mr. Newton is the best starter who ever officiated at Fort Wayne.

EXAMINER'S OFFICE IS OPEN

NEW PENSION AGENT FOR FORT WAYNE DISTRICT.

J. H. Jolly, of Washington, is Stationed in This City—Much Business Has Accrued.

The United States pension bureau has found it necessary to reopen the office of the special examiner of pensions in this city, and yesterday the doors of the office on the third floor of the government building were thrown open for business for the first time since the removal of Examiner Shantz from this city some weeks ago.

The new examiner appointed for the Fort Wayne district is J. H. Jolly of Washington, who has for some months been stationed at Minneapolis. He arrived in the city yesterday, and says that so much business has accumulated since the closing of the office in August that it is probable the office will now be maintained permanently. Mr. Jolly has been connected with the pension bureau since 1883. The six counties comprising the Fort Wayne district over which Mr. Jolly has been placed are Allen, DeKalb, Steuben, Lagrange, Noble and Whitley.

Wore Cloth from Stone.

James McGuck, a Manassas spinner, has an armchair covered with a soft and silken fabric of Titian red, which he wore to the city of rock, the crumbling stone that Manassas masons build cheap houses of, says a Philadelphia paper. McGuck thus describes the weaving: I threw about a ton of the rock in lumps as big as your hand, into the picker. The picker blades were dulled, but the rock was crushed and came out good stock, with a staple as long as the asbestos. This stuff I threw into my carding machine, and first it became a soft, inch-thick rope, then a harder quarter inch twine, and at this point my mule took it and twisted it till it was an ordinary thread, like that you see on a spool of cotton. I wove it on a hand loom then. This little square of cloth is 18 inches square—is all I got. It took a ton of rock to make this little square. It is rather pretty, you see, and it is very durable. I claim it is the first cloth ever woven out of real rock to the history of the world.

City of Murderers.

The city of Ardena in Italy claims the undisputed record of having no man among its inhabitants who has not either committed murder or tried to do so. For two centuries the Italian authorities have ignored its existence, and when any criminal succeeds in escaping to Ardena he is left alone. As such wayfarers reach the town they are asked what crime they have committed, and should they not be able to give very clear proof that they have really committed some offense in the eyes of the law they are refused admittance. Some criminal, seeing the humorous side of this, surreptitiously posted the following: "It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for an innocent man to enter Ardena."

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Wheat ruled strong and active today under the influence of wet weather throughout the northwest. October opened ½¢ higher at 78½¢, touched 78½¢, reacted to 77½¢ and rose excitedly to 79¢. Shorts and the northwest were heavy buyers. Offerings were light. Local receipts were 308 cars, 9 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 109 cars against 438 last week and 721 a year ago.

The heavy demand continued to the end of the session. Corn was dull but steady on light country offerings. October opened ½¢ higher at 35½¢, dropped back ½¢, but recovered. Receipts were 458 cars.

The closing was steady, October unchanged at 35½¢.

Oats were quiet. October opened a shade down at 21½¢. Receipts were 184 cars. Provisions opened firm on a strong hog market, but the support of covering was apparently lacking and a reaction followed. October pork opened 7½¢ higher at $12.22½ and dropped to $11.05; October lard opened 10¢ higher at $7.15, selling to $7.07½, and October ribs 5¢ up at $7.40 to $7.45, casing to $7.35.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows: Wheat—Sept., 79½¢; Oct., 79½¢; Nov., 80½¢.

Corn—Sept., 40½¢; Oct., 38½¢; Nov., 36½¢.

Oats—Sept., 21½¢; Oct., 21½¢; Nov., 22½¢.

Pork—Sept., $11.02½; Oct., $11.07½; Jan., $11.40.

Lard—Sept., $7.07½; Oct., $7.07½; Nov., $7.02½; Dec., $6.72½ to $6.78.

Ribs—Sept., $7.60; Oct., $7.32½; Jan., $6.07½.

Flax—Cash N. W., $1.59½; Cash S. W., $1.59; Sept., $1.68½; Oct., $1.63; Dec., $1.53.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Cattle—Receipts, 17,000, including 2,500 westerns and 1,000 Texans; native steers steady to shade lower; butchers' stock, westerns and Texans steady. Good to prime steers, $8.50 to $8.85; poor to medium, $4.35 to $5.35; stockers and feeders, $2.75 to $4.00; cows, $2.50 to $4.00; heifers, $3.00 to $4.00; canners, $2.25 to $2.80; bulls, $2.50 to $4.00; calves, $4.00 to $6.00; Texas fed steers, $4.40 to $5.15; Texas grass steers, $3.50 to $4.30; Texas bulls, $2.75 to $3.50.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 19.—Only a few stocks were lightly traded in at the opening of the stock market and prices hardly moved at all. A fall of a point in Lackawanna was immediately followed by a rally of ½¢. The tendency was to drop. The market was feverish but in the main heavy. Lackawanna fluctuated frequently and at the lowest showed a loss of 1½¢ and Reading second preferred a Point. Jersey Central rose ½¢. Western and Pacific railroad stocks bore the brunt of the light selling in the railroads, but losses were very small.

The reactionary tendency of prices was accelerated by free liquidation in Tennessee Coal and Metropolitan Street Railway, which lost 2 and 2½¢ respectively. Railroad stocks were sold heavily and St. Paul, Baltimore and Ohio, Northern Pacific and Missouri Pacific dropped about a point each.

Bonds were quiet and irregular.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Sept. 19.—Money on call nominally at 1½¢ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½¢ per cent; sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87½ to $4.87½ for demand and at $4.83½ for 60 days; posted rates, $4.86 to $4.84½ and $4.58; commercial bills, $4.83½ to $4.83; silver certificates, $2½ to $2½; bar silver, 62½¢; Mexican dollars, 48½¢.

A FREIGHT POOL

BUFFALO-NEW YORK LINES

MAKE AGREEMENT.

55 PER CENT. TO VANDERBILT

BALANCE TO ERIE, LEHIGH

VALLEY AND LACKAWANNA.

ONE MAN CONTROLS TRAFFIC

HARRIOT WILL SEE AGREEMENT IS FULFILLED.

New York, Sept. 19.—The Journal of Commerce prints the following: "It was learned yesterday from an authoritative source that the railroads coming into this port have entered into an agreement the effect of which will be to pool all their grain traffic. The agreement is not officially termed a pool and it will be undoubtedly conducted in such a way as to avoid a violation of the interstate commerce law. But in practice it will amount to the Vanderbilts getting over the New York Central and West Shore roads about 55 per cent. of all the lake and rail grain coming to Buffalo, while the Erie will get 25 percent., leaving 20 per cent. to be distributed between the Lehigh Valley and the Lackawanna in the proportion of 16 per cent. for the Lehigh Valley and 4 per cent. for the Lackawanna. The two roads last named are striving to secure a slightly larger percentage of the business and it is just possible in view of the fact that the Vanderbilts view are the initiators of the new pool, that they themselves will grant the Lehigh Valley and the Lackawanna from their own share a slightly better percentage. Beyond this all details have been arranged. Mr. Frank Harriot, until recently general freight agent of the Erie road, has been appointed manager of the lake and rail grain traffic and will in a day or two issue a circular announcing to western shippers and all others interested the new rates east of Buffalo. Mr. Harriot has full power to change this rate from time to time as the exigencies of the situation may require and will in fact, have autocratic control of the railroad grain situation east of Buffalo. Under the new rule arrangements made by Mr. Harriot will have to be lived up to and the managers of the various roads will report to Mr. Harriot all contracts for grain shipments that they may make. With this information at his disposal, Mr. Harriot will be able to check up the business of the various roads and will, when necessary, route the grain in order to keep intact the various percentages agreed to. As the active shipping season is now at hand and the new crop will be coming forward in gradually increasing volume, the new pool is naturally of importance to the New York trade and much interest will be taken in Mr. Harriot's attitude in regard to the maintenance of rates."

SHIPPED LOTS OF DYNAMOS.

The shipping department at the electric works was very busy yesterday and today, sending out dynamos and electrical apparatus in all directions.

In addition to the three or four shipments mentioned in The Sentinel yesterday the following are some of the most important: A 240-light incandescent machine to the Windsor Knitting mills, Hagerstown, Md.; a 400-light incandescent machine to the Dunn Worsted mills, Woonsocket, R. I.; a 1,200-light incandescent machine to the Gate City Cotton mills, of Atlanta, Ga. There are a number of other shipments to be made just as soon as the shipping department can get hold of the machinery. The shop is behind with its work.

ENGINEER RESIGNS.

H. Gebhardt last night resigned as engineer at the electric power plant at the Pittsburg shops, thereby taking the heads of the department by surprise. Mr. Gebhardt does not make known his intentions as to the future. He has worked for the Pennsylvania company in various capacities for several years. No permanent assignment to the position has yet been made.

ADOPTION OF STEEL TIES.

For some years roads all over the country have been using steel ties with good results, and accordingly manufacturers in this country are using the foreign roads as argument to induce American roads to buy the steel tie. Some engineers believe, too, that steel does not make as good a tie as wood. With steel ties and rock ballast, they say, passengers would think they are riding on a bed of solid cement on account of the absence of resilient properties. They also believe that difficulty would be experienced in packing the dirt about the steel ties securely enough to prevent the tracks getting out of alignment.

For about six months the Huntingdon and Broad Top Mountain railroad in Pennsylvania has been experimenting with the use of steel ties. The tie in use there resembles the "bow" and "plate" tie largely in use in India and South America, and the company has been subjecting it to exceptionally heavy traffic. The ties were laid on October 12, 1899. There are forty-four of them, and the normal spacing is twenty-four inches from center to center, but the actual spacing varies from sixteen to thirty inches, the ties having been put in where the wooden ties were removed. Each trough or rail bearer weighs about twenty-five pounds and the tie bearer sixty pounds. The rails are seventy-pounds and are laid with suspended joints spliced with four-bolt angle bars, and the track is ballasted with slag.

Since the ties were laid about 1,300,000 tons of freight has passed over them, principally coal cars of 60,000 and 80,000 pounds capacity, hauled by 100-ton engines. The officials claim that the steel ties make a more durable track than wooden ties, and reduce the labor of track maintenance by 40 per cent. They also permit an increase of 33 per cent. in the length of the sections. If these deductions are correct it is difficult to see why railroads in general do not adopt the steel tie.

ODD-FELLOWS EXCURSION.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana company has been asked to prepare for a big excursion from Portland to Fort Wayne tomorrow. The promoters say the crowd will number over 500—possibly 1,000—and they are anxious to have plenty of cars at hand to accommodate the people. The excursion is to run under the auspices of the Portland Odd Fellow lodge, which expects to realize a handsome sum from the enterprise.

IN HIS NEW OFFICE.

General Manager J. J. Wood, of the Fort Wayne Electric company, is now occupying elegant new office rooms in the main office building on Broadway. The partitions which formed the former office in the main factory building are being removed and the space will soon be occupied by some kind of machinery or apparatus for making electrical supplies.

NOT ALL WILL CLOSE.

Not all of the shops in the city will close for the races. It was reported that the Pennsylvania shops would suspend operations for tomorrow afternoon, but at this hour the matter is not fully settled. Master Mechanic McKee, of the Wabash, said that those shops would not shut down completely, only a small portion of the men wanting to attend the races. All who wish to go can do so, but he does not expect very many of his men to avail themselves of this privilege.

Factory Superintendent Barnes of the electric works, says his men have the privilege of attending the races, but the shop will not shut down for that purpose. He had a conference with some of the employees about the matter and found only a small per cent. of them in favor of closing the works. The shop is away behind with its work and the employees are working thirteen hours per day. Under these conditions Mr. Barnes was of the opinion that it would be very unwise to suspend operations even for half a day.

Master Mechanic Muir, of the Bass works, said that that establishment would not close for the races; at least not the machine department, where the men are very busy. About the same condition prevailed in other industrial institutions in the city. All who wish to attend the races have that privilege, but the sentiment is decidedly in favor of continuing operations.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Fred Rippe, carpenter in the Wabash shops, is sick and off duty.

Frank O'Ryan, of the Electric works, is today looking after private affairs.

M. W. Laughlin has taken a position as brakeman on the Nickel Plate road.

F. Galland, of the Pittsburg round house, is preparing for a visit with friends in Chicago.

Yardmaster William Watterson, of the Nickel Plate, was called to Knox yesterday on business.

P. S. Hunting left last night for Plymouth, Mass., to join his wife, who has been visiting there for several weeks in the hopes that the change

Engineer B. F. Campbell, of the Pittsburg, made a business trip to Columbia City this morning.

Fred Engelking, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is off duty on account of the illness of his wife.

John T. Schincks has succeeded R. English as division master mechanic of the Rio Grande Western at Helper.

Conductor E. Milbush, who had been sick four or five weeks, reported for duty on the Nickel Plate yesterday.

Engineer J. E. Long and Fireman C. A. Welsh and O. F. Boese, of the Pittsburg, are off duty on account of sickness.

The Baltimore and Ohio will rebuild its bridges over the Ohio river at Wheeling and at Parkersburg early next summer.

W. S. Dances, superintendent of bridges and buildings of the Wabash, was in the city this morning on business for the company.

George M. Smith, of the Wabash blacksmith shop, his wife and his children will go to Springfield, Ill., this evening to visit his father.

T. Renard, Nickel Plate brakeman, who was off duty on account of sickness in his family, was able to resume work on the road yesterday.

Bollie McAfee, hammer boy at the Pittsburg shops, and his mother left this morning for Indianapolis, where they will visit friends a few days.

It is again stated that the Pennsylvania will connect its many long sidings between Logansport and Chicago and establish a double track.

James Meehan, electrician from Ganway, was the guest of friends in the city Sunday and Monday, returning to his home Monday night.

Engineer and Mrs. E. L. Davis, who were visiting in Toledo, have returned to the city and Mr. Davis today resumed his duties on the road.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hawkins have gone to Marion, Ind., for a week's visit with friends. Mr. Hawkins is employed in the Pittsburg lumber yards.

Bert Olds, the electrician, went to Batavia, Ohio, this morning to set in operation an electric plant which was built by the Fort Wayne Electric company.

C. Horstmeier and P. Williams, Pennsylvania car builders, are off duty, the former on account of an accident and the latter on account of sickness.

Mrs. W. P. Morris, wife of the Nickel Plate engineer, has returned from Bellevue, Ohio, where she was the guest of relatives and friends for two weeks.

Conductor C. M. Basley, who was temporarily on a local run between Bellevue and Leipsic, on the Nickel Plate, has returned here and resumed a through freight run.

The little daughter of Night Yardmaster W. E. Rowe, of the Wabash, is very ill with typhoid fever and Mr. Rowe is taking a lay off in order that he may attend her bedside.

George W. French has been appointed master mechanic of the Little Rock, Hot Springs and Western road, with headquarters at Hot Springs, vice J. G. Mackendon, resigned.

A report is current that the St. Joseph and Grand Island will become a part of the Burlington system on October 15. This company has already acquired the Kansas City and Omaha, a part of that system.

Theodore Titus, the popular Pittsburg engineer, was at the road foreman's office yesterday to say that he would be ready to go to work in a few days, probably Monday. Mr. Titus has been ill for some days.

Brakeman R. M. Beltz, who was in the Nickel Plate caboose which was upset by a Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton engine at Leipsic, Ohio, a few weeks ago, has recovered from the injuries thus sustained and yesterday reported for duty.

It is probable that Boston will be made, for the winter, the eastern terminus of the Canadian Pacific. The Boston and Maine is anxious to get all the freight it can from the Canadian Pacific and has unrivaled facilities at Boston.

Joseph J. Horstmann, molder, has recovered after a three weeks' illness and resumed work at the Kerr Murray foundry. Mr. and Mrs. John B. Horstmann, father and mother of Joseph, are now sick at the family home, 47 Hawner street.

The quarterly meeting of Pennsylvania transportation officials is being held in Pittsburg today and Supt. J. B. McKim and Motive Power Supt. D. E. Crawford, of the Pennsylvania, and Supt. J. W. Hunter, of the Grand Rapids, are in attendance.

It is reported that the Erie will make no more binding traffic contracts with the Pittsburg and Lake Erie and is turning over eastbound business to the Lake Shore at Youngstown, which indicates that the Vanderbilts have something to say concerning interests.

Clover Leaf trains run over the Nickel Plate road last night between Continental and Latty. The former road was blocked by a wreck of two freight trains, which collided between Dechar, Ind., and Delphos, Ohio.

Both engines were derailed, the tracks torn up and eight cars thrown in the ditch.

Mrs. McKinley, wife of Nathaniel McKinley, the Pennsylvania lineman, and her baby left this morning for Cincinnati, where they will visit a week.

Charles H. Winkler, assistant baggage master at nights at the Pittsburg depot, and his wife will leave today for Carp Lake, Mich., where Mr. Winkler will do some fishing.

Martin Schuler, the veteran Pittsburg shopman, has returned from Independence, Kas., where he spent five or six weeks with relatives. He will probably resume his duties in the shop next Monday.

M. J. Rogan and M. Hogan are new employees at the Wabash shops. They have been assigned to the boiler department. James A. Clark is also a new name on the pay roll, he being assigned to the yard labor gang.

The Buffalo North American's relief party made a fine run over the Wabash and Iron Mountain roads last Friday, beating all fast run records on either line. The train consisted of a baggage car and five sleepers, occupied by nurses and provisions for the Galveston storm sufferers.

The Illinois Central is putting in a double track between Fulton and Fort Jefferson, Ky., a distance of thirty-five miles, which will be opened for service November 1. Curves have been eliminated as much as possible and grades have been reduced from fifty-two to thirty-eight feet per mile.

A son was born last night to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lenz, of Fairfield avenue. By the advent of the little fellow, Ernest Lenz, the well-known Pittsburg shopman, became a grandfather, and it is said he feels as proud over the arrival of the boy as does the father. Mr. Lenz, jr., conducts a grocery business on Fairfield avenue.

The Wabash earnings for the second week of September amounted to $372,001.61; increase over same week last year, $26,648.92; July 1 to September 14, inclusive, $9,588,948.83; increase, $174,898.48. The passenger earnings for the second week of September show an increase of $35,000 over the corresponding week in 1897, three years since.

THEORIES ABOUT FOOD.

Also a Few Facts on the Same Subject.

We hear much nowadays about health foods and hygienic living, about vegetarianism and many other fads along the same line.

Restaurants may be found in the larger cities where no meat, poultry or coffee is served and the food cranked in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors who lived four score years in robust health on roast beef, pork and mutton must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind from bacon to acorns.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and is assimilated more quickly than vegetable and grains.

Dr. Julius Rommson on this subject says: "Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs, or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use."

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets composed of natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acids and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures are useless for indigestion as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to save the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50c. For full treatment of stomach trouble modified free by addressing F. A. Stuart, Dr. Marshall, Mich.

TWO IMPORTANT CHINESE PORTS.

Here are views of two of China's seaports which are just now of most importance. Taku harbor is the naval base of the allied forces, and it is there that most of the troops which went to the relief of the legations in Peking were landed. Amoy, however, is a point where American interest centers. We have large commercial interests in Amoy, and we are very much interested in the doings of the Japanese there.
